SHANGHAI, Aug. 31.—Bedlam reigned in Shanghai transportation offices today as American refugees frantically sought to escape from the Shanghai war zone.

At the Dollar line office passengers and refugees who were to have left Shanghai aboard the liner President Hoover, which was bombed yesterday by Chinese planes, staged a near stampede in their anxiety to flee the oriental war theatre.

Adding to the seriousness of the attack on the liner, one of the injured seamen, S. Haskell, died of his wounds. Fragments of the bombs that struck the vessel had pierced his abdomen.

Ship Heads For Japan.
While the Chinese government offered redress for the bombing of the ship, in which seven members of the crew were injured and three passengers were hurt, the President Hoover headed for Kobe, Japan.

In doing so the liner omitted her scheduled call at Shanghai, where she was to have picked up 312 Americans and other refugees.

Determined to get as far away from shell-battered Shanghai as possible, the liner headed for Kobe, Japan.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Have you ever watched a farmer feed his pigs? If so you may have noticed that there are always some in the pen who are so greedy that they get both feet in the trough and you know what they are called. Applying this homely illustration to motor traffic at the intersection of the New Castle-Butler road, and the Perry highway, you will see motorists leaving the line of traffic going south, gliding across a short cut off to the New Castle road and getting in ahead of the traffic line which they had left and which was halted by a stop sign. Perhaps you know what to call these motorists.

It has been many years since a trip through the country at this season of the year has been filled with so much charm. Usually the fields are brown and bare, the elder berries brown and laden, and the corn drooping, but today you will see green fields, cows knee deep in pasture, and corn fields as healthy and proud as an army out for inspection. It all goes to show what the weather man can do when he's out to help the farmer.

Legless Charlie Zunmy has just completed a swim down the Hudson from Albany to New York, a distance of 144 miles in 145 hours. This naturally gives rise to the query: If a man without legs can swim 144 miles in 145 hours, how long would it take a man with two legs to swim a similar distance?

From Harrisburg comes a wall that Pennsylvania may find itself with a bumper crop of school houses and nobody to fill them if the present decrease in the birth rate keeps up. Millions have been spent during the past few years for school buildings, while at the same time

Mercer County Farmer Killed In Accident While Unloading Hay

While unloading hay from a wagon in the barn on his farm in Lackawanna township, Mercer county, about five miles north of New Wilmington, on the Pulaski-Mercer road, Guy C. Hope, age 56, was killed almost instantly when the hay fork broke away from its fastening in the top of the barn and hit him. The accident occurred shortly after 3 o'clock Monday afternoon.

According to a report the fork pierced his abdomen, and he died instantly. Mr. Hope was riding on the top of the wagon when it entered the barn and he was adjusting the hay fork when it broke loose from the pulley and fell.

Mr. Hope is the son of Joseph and Lucinda Hayes Hope, and was born in Lackawanna township on November 18, 1880. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alonza Hoagland

Expect Huge Crowd At Grocers' Outing At Park Wednesday

With any kind of a break from the weatherman, a huge crowd is expected to gather at Cascade Park, Wednesday, for the ninth annual outing of the Lawrence County Retail Grocers and Food Dealers association.

General Chairman J. W. Rupert today stated that final plans have been completed for what promises to be one of the biggest picnics in the history of the organization. Mr. Rupert said that Lawrence County merchants will close their establishments at noon Wednesday to attend the affair.

"The association invites everyone in Lawrence County to gather at Cascade tomorrow and enjoy the big program arranged. We want everyone to come and have lots of fun," Rupert said this morning.

Await Answer From Van Dyke

Delegation May Go To Harrisburg In Harlans-
burg Safety Demand

PETITIONS RECENTLY
SENT TO CAPITAL

Some answer from Warren Van Dyke, secretary of highways is expected in a few days on the possibility of improving the intersection of the Perry highway and Route 108 at Harlansburg. Superintendent John B. Shaw has sent the resolution adopted recently at the meeting called by the New Castle Motor club and to it has added his own recommendation that something be done immediately.

It is hoped that the answer will contain a definite promise of action to improve the "death trap" crossing at Harlansburg. While the only permanent improvement that would guarantee safety there is an overpass on Route 108, there are several temporary possibilities that can be considered.

Should there be no reply at an early date, or should there be a disposition to delay improving safety conditions at the intersection it is planned to send a delegation of citizens to Harrisburg and lay the matter before Mr. Van Dyke in person.

Jap Transport Struck By Bomb

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Aug. 31.—Causing an "unknown number of casualties," a bomb struck the stern of a Japanese transport ship during the attack on the American Dollar liner President Hoover by Chinese aircraft, Chinese officials here claimed today.

They said the American liner was near a number of Japanese vessels at the time of the "mistaken" attack, leading the Chinese airmen to believe the President Hoover was a Japanese transport vessel.

Rev. C. H. Hauger To Quit Ministry

Pastor Of Croton Avenue
M. E. Church Will Retire

NUMBER OF YEARS

Announcement of the voluntary retirement from the ministry of Rev. C. H. Hauger, pastor of the Croton Avenue M. E. church was made known to the members of the congregation Monday evening, at the close of the Fourth Quarterly conference of the church, presided over by Dr. Thomas E. Coley, district superintendent.

Rev. Hauger announced his plan to present his resignation to the annual conference of the church at Westfield, N. Y., on September 14, and because of the circumstances, his request for retirement will be granted without question.

Fifteen months ago, he suffered a slight fracture at the base of the brain, when struck by the driver of

Governor Murphy Says Third Term May Be Necessary

Michigan Governor Joins Democrats
Leaning Toward
Third Term Idea

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Aug. 31.—Declaring "it may be necessary to re-elect President Roosevelt," Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan today said "the third term tradition must be subordinated to needs of the nation in 1940."

While launching another third-term boom for his friend in the white house, Gov. Murphy also eliminated himself as a possible presidential candidate in 1940.

Enroute from the west coast, newspapermen in Chicago asked the governor if he would be a candidate for president in 1940, he said: "I told them there is no reason why I should be a candidate." He reiterated today, "My name will not go before the convention."

"In my opinion, it may be necessary to re-elect President Roosevelt. Government, as defined in this nation today, must go forward. It cannot and must not go backward."

Detroit Man Held In Brutal Child Murder

Evelyn Mack, 10, Victim
Of Crime—Accused Man
"Friend" Of Family

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—A brutal child murder was disclosed here today as the perpetrator of the crime was caught trying to flee across the Ambassador bridge into Canada.

After his arrest at the international border, Joseph Jacobs, 45, confessed to police, they said, he had killed Evelyn Mack, 10, because he had been overcome by "a strange feeling." He denied criminally attacking the child.

He then led police to a woods on the outskirts of the city where the girl's body was found.

Police had been hunting Jacobs since he failed to return Evelyn to her home after taking her to a store yesterday afternoon Jacobs was a friend of the Mack family.

Police said it was the most brutal child murder here since 11-year-old Lillian Gallaher was attacked and slain by Merton Ward Goodrich, mad Ohio musician, in 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mack, parents of the little girl found slain today, did not report her disappearance until 1:30 a. m., although she had been missing for 12 hours at that time.

"Trusted Jacobs"
They explained that Jacobs often had called at their home and taken Evelyn and her brother to the store and returned them safely.

"We trusted Jacobs," the father said. However, the parents became alarmed early this morning and notified police. A radio alarm was sent out—just in time to lead to apprehension of Jacobs at the border.

Police Lieutenant Walter Bacher, who led a posse of officers to the woods in search of the child's body, said the girl had been killed by blows on the head from an automobile crank.

Jacobs after his confession was placed under heavy guard at police headquarters. He described himself as an unemployed automobile plant worker. He had operated a crane in an auto factory.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 31.—A grave problem of international policy was being directed by President Roosevelt today as a result of the bombing of the American liner President Hoover by Chinese planes.

The president to date has withheld his discretionary right to declare state of war exists between China and Japan and invoke the neutrality act, giving as his reason the failure of the two embattled nations to break off diplomatic relations.

Numerous phone calls and telegraphic exchanges were made between the president and his cabinet members today. (Continued On Page Two)

Last Chance Given Voters In Country Area To Register

Registration Bureau Will Be Kept Open Tomorrow
Night To 9 O'clock

Registration Clerk, Thomas Edmunds, announced this morning that he will keep the registration bureau open until 9 o'clock tomorrow night for the accommodation of voters in the boroughs and townships who have so far failed to register.

There was a steady stream of registrants today, and it is expected that tomorrow will be a big day. Indications are that when the time limit expires tomorrow night, there will still be from 7000 to 8000 eligibles who have failed to register.

They will be unable to vote at the primary, but may register in time to vote at the general election in November.

Next Saturday will be the last day on which city residents who have changed their address within a precinct, can register their correct address at the registration bureau. Unless this is done they cannot vote, even if they have not moved out of the precinct.

New York's New Marriage Law Goes Into Effect

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—New York's three-day marriage law went into effect a 9 a. m. today following one of the busiest days seen at the local marriage license bureau.

One hundred and seventy couples obtained licenses yesterday, more than six times the usual number. Of them, 41 couples were married by the city clerk immediately after issuance of the license.

Hereafter, 72 hours must elapse between the license and the ceremony, a law instituted to discourage "gig" weddings.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 31.—Japanese military authorities today announced the capture of the Woosung forts, guarding the entrance to the Whangpoo river, and the village of Woosung.

A combined attack by naval guns, artillery and bombing planes, which started this morning and continued throughout the day, finally gave the Japanese control of the important strategic fortifications.

Capture of Woosung forts is regarded here as heralding early fall of Shanghai itself into Japanese hands.

Heavily fortified, Woosung controls the upper reaches of the Whangpoo river.

With Woosung in Japanese possession, troop reinforcements and military supplies can be shipped down the river to Shanghai with far less opposition than encountered heretofore. The Woosung forts had been active in attempting to prevent landing of Japanese troops from transports arriving after voyages across the Yellow Sea.

Woosung has been the scene of heavy fighting between opposing troops in the present conflict.

Simultaneously with capture of Woosung forts, according to a war office announcement, Japanese troops also occupied strategic points along the Whangpoo river banks.

Heavy troop detachments landed successfully on the river banks under the cover of an artillery barrage and gunfire from Japanese warships in the Whangpoo.

Report Prisoner Makes Attack Upon Physician In His Jail

SCHEDULE TRIAL FOR SEPTEMBER 20

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 31—Robert Irwin, confessed slaver of Veronica Gedeon in the Easter Sunday triple murders, will be removed from the toms city prison to another jail, it was revealed today, following his attack on the prison physician.

Going berserk at sight of the doctor, Irwin required two guards to quell his mad rage. Biting one guard in the neck and kicking the other in the shins, Irwin is said to have fumed.

"Keep those religious and medical fellows away from me."

The outburst began when he threw a glass of water at Dr. George D'Oronzo, as the prison doctor passed his cell.

Lunacy Commission
Irwin's attorney, Samuel Leibowitz, declared the young sculptor explained to him that the prison doctor "was always leering and leering at me."

A lunacy commission was appointed yesterday to examine Irwin prior to his scheduled trial on September 20.

Leibowitz charged that his client exhibited evidence of having been beaten.

"He has a five inch cut going from the right temple to the center of the forehead," the attorney said. "There are four welts below his shoulder blade. It looks as if they were inflicted with rubber pipe."

Deputy prison commissioner David Marcus promised a thorough investigation.

CHINA SEEKING INTERVENTION IS JAPAN'S CHARGE

charging China was deliberately trying to force foreign intervention in the conflict.

The navy department issued a communique stating it was necessary to "chastise" China for her "outrageous bombings" of the International Settlement in Shanghai August 14, when three Americans were killed, and for the attack by Chinese war planes on the President Hoover.

"Humanity does not permit such cruelty," the navy announced, while the Japanese government went forward with plans to throw 500,000 troops against the Chinese on all fronts.

A spokesman for the Japanese foreign office told International News Service that Japan was "shocked" by the new incident, and sympathized deeply with the passengers and sailors aboard the President Hoover who were wounded by the Chinese bombing.

Japan, declared the spokesman proudly, will do her utmost to prevent injuries to third parties resulting "from the advance of our troops." He added:

"We want the horrors and destruction of warfare removed from Shanghai and tranquility restored there as soon as possible."

Meanwhile, it was reported reliably that Japan, in answer to the stern British note of protest against the wounding of Britain's ambassador, Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Huysen, will send an apology to London thus complying with one of Britain's demands.

The Japanese government, however, will not punish the aviators responsible for the attack on the envoy and will give Br' in no assurances against recurrence of such incidents, according to these reports.

U. S. REFUGEES FRANTIC TO GET OUT OF SHANGHAI

fast as possible, these refugees sought to catch up with the President Hoover aboard the Japanese steamer Shanghai Maru.

Wild scenes of confusion resulted. Americans hurriedly sought Japanese visas for their passports in order to go to Japan in the hope of boarding the American vessel. The Japanese consulate was taxed beyond its limits as Americans clamored for the necessary signatures.

Money changing offices were swamped under the pressure of business as Americans sought to change their American dollars back into Chinese funds and Japanese yen.

The offices of the Japanese Nippon Yusen Kaisha steamship line were besieged with refugees seeking passage to Japan and safety from the perils of Shanghai's undeclared war.

Adding to the confusion, ready cash was lacking to handle the demands that poured in. Facilities were unavailable for moving the great mass of ready luggage, and many refugees were forced to abandon many of their personal possessions in their haste to make a "get-away."

first grade enrollments have fallen off nearly fifty thousand. Maybe when folks begin to realize how lonesome a school house would be without children, they'll do something about it.

Judging from the increase in tourist cabins around gas stations in the suburbs, New Castle must be getting to be a favorite stopping place for motorists traveling from here to there. Anyhow it shows that tourists must be passing this way for people don't usually build beehives where there are no bees.

Fred J. Shatzer, 406 North Vine street, reported today that one night recently he caught the first Mississippi yellow channel cat to be taken out of the Shenango river in two years. Fishing at Big Bend on the Shenango, Mr. Shatzer hooked the fish weighing 14 1/2 pounds and measuring almost 22 inches in length. A group of friends were fishing with him at the time.

Work was started today on excavating in Northview avenue, preparatory to paving that thoroughfare. Work is also under way on the exciting and preliminary to paving work on Edgewood and Glenmore streets in the same general section of the city.

Autoists will probably have little inclination to speed on the newly paved Albert street, in the northern extremity, Pa Newc would opine. The dips at the intersecting streets are quite noticeable, and would give autoists considerable of a shaking up if crossed at any speed.

The intersecting streets should be marked with stop signs, so that Albert street becomes a through thoroughfare in the interests of safety on this newly paved street.

Iowa's cornfields are much pressed, but Pennsylvania's exhibitions of the same line at the present time will compare quite favorably with anything that Iowa has to offer.

About the roughest piece of concrete paving to be found in many long miles is the stretch on the hill leading down into Harlansburg from the direction of New Castle. Some resurfacing would eliminate this condition, it is believed.

Wednesday is the final day for residents of the county to be registered to vote at the September primaries.

One week from tomorrow and the army of school children in New Castle will trek back to school.

Next Monday, Labor Day, will probably witness the greatest auto traffic in the history of roads in this area. If you are planning a week end trip, make safety your slogan.

As long as the intersection remains in the shape it is now no one can be sure of his safety there, for one driver can only be cautious for himself, the other fellow may be a scatterbrain and ruin both cars.

Since the meeting in the The Castleton hotel public sentiment for improving the intersection has been growing. City council has passed a resolution of protest against it, and civic bodies are expected to follow and if some word does not come from Secretary Van Dyke within a short time the delegation will be formed.

Funeral For Infant.

Funeral services for Norman Delbert White, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman White, of New Castle, R. D. 6, were conducted at the residence on Saturday afternoon in the presence of many sympathetic friends.

Robert Boak and Norabelle Wolford sang the touching number, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" accompanied by Mrs. Willard Harlan. The minister in charge was Seth C. Morrow, student-pastor of Mt Hermon church.

Flower bearers were Mabel White, Blanche Dean, Ethel and Mildred Dean, Mae Shaffer and Norabelle Wolford. Pallbearers were Glen and Dale Carrothers, Clare and Donald Boak. Interment was made in Mt. Hermon cemetery.

Mrs. Cunningham Funeral Plans.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Margaret Rigby Cunningham, age 26 years, wife of Charles Cunningham, who died on Monday after two months of illness, will take place at the residence, 313 Lincoln avenue, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Cunningham was born in New Castle on April 17, 1911, daughter of A. C. and Anna Goodchild Rigby. She passed all of her short lifetime in this city and had an unusually large number of friends. She married Mr. Cunningham, a prominent musician, three years ago.

Besides her husband she leaves her mother and the following brothers: Arthur, Alex, Eugene and Jack Rigby, all of New Castle.

F. E. Wagner Funeral Plans.

Funeral services for the late Frederick E. Wagner, of 1209 Clearview avenue will be conducted at 8 o'clock tonight in the residence.

On Wednesday the body will be taken to Saxenburg where further services will be conducted at 2 p. m. in Memorial church and interment will be made in Saxenburg cemetery.

Services In Ohio

Funeral services for Joseph Kerr, Sr., former New Castle resident, but lately of Follansbee, W. Va., who died last week, were conducted Monday in Oakmont cemetery at Mingo Junction, O.

Rites were conducted before the burial from Mr. Kerr's late home in Follansbee.

Surviving to mourn his loss are his wife, Lillie Williams Kerr, and two sons, Edward and Joe, Jr., and one daughter, Carolyn. Three sisters are also left, Mrs. Charles Myers of Texas, Mrs. Della Parrar of Philadelphia and Mrs. Jennie Sankey of New Castle.

Funeral Of Mrs. Armstrong.

In the presence of a throng of saddened friends, funeral services for the late Mrs. T. J. Armstrong, of Leesburg, were conducted at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Presbyterian church which she had served so long and faithfully.

The pastor, Rev. William A. Lloyd, and Dr. S. A. Kirkbride, of New Wilmington, were the officiating clergymen.

Forty-two members of the Dorcas Sunday school class of which Mrs. Armstrong had been the beloved teacher served as flower bearers.

Pallbearers were elders, Charles Sankey, Donald Rice, James Rice, James Grundy, William Drake and Barkley Mathison, the latter serving in place of Mr. Armstrong, husband of the deceased. Interment was made in Leesburg cemetery.

J. T. Glenn Funeral.

Services for the late J. T. Glenn, who passed away at West Newtonville, Mass., were conducted at 2:30 p. m., Monday in the Offutt funeral home, this city.

Dr. J. J. McIlvenny, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated.

tween Hyde Park and the state department in Washington during the last 24 hours.

Aides of the president here were puzzled over such an inexcusable mistake as the Chinese Nanking government admitted and apologized for in connection with the bombing of the President Hoover. Promptness of the acknowledgment of fault and offer to meet all damages was understood to be weighing in the scales.

Application of the neutrality act, it generally was conceded, would impose more hardships on China than Japan. The provision that purchase and shipment of goods from this country must be on a cash and carry basis at the risk of the consignee would give Japan a distinct edge in the market because of her merchant fleet and ready cash.

Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, in command of the United States Asiatic fleet, said he had advised all American merchant ships to steer clear of the Shanghai danger zone.

Meanwhile, at Nanking, negotiations were swiftly launched toward a full settlement of the incident. Chinese authorities termed the bombing "deplorable," indicating the airmen responsible may be severely dealt with. The President Hoover flew American flags from her mast-heads at the time of the attack.

The foreign office at Nanking instructed Ambassador C. T. Wang in Washington to express China's regrets to the state department for the accidental bombing.

Let's Re-elect McIlvenny

We—The members of Tin City Division 565 of The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, are of the opinion that the interests of organized labor can best be served by proportional representation in all departments of our government, by men from within our ranks.

Therefore, we the members of Division 565 of The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers do hereby endorse and recommend the nomination and election of J. Herbert McIlvenny as a member of the Board of Education in the primary election of September 14th and the November election.

Mr. McIlvenny has a combined membership of 48 years in the engine service Brotherhoods and has always taken an active part in any progressive legislation intended to improve the general well-fare of all the people. His experience of some 40 years as Secretary-Treasurer of the B. of L. E. and the B. of L. E. as a member of the State Legislative Board and as a Delegate to several of the National Conventions of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, combined with his present and past experience as a member of the Board of Education, we believe has fitted him to fulfill the duties we have a right to expect of him as a member of the Board of Education.

Nearly $1,000 Has Been Deposited In Parking Meters

The annual reports submitted at the quarterly conference last evening, showed the Croton church to be in the best condition financially since 1929, attesting to his ability.

Rev. and Mrs. Hauger plan to take up a permanent residence in Washington, D. C., after spending the winter touring through the south. Their summer will be spent at Chautauque, N. Y., where they have a cottage.

Just who will succeed him here will not be made known until the close of the Erie Conference meeting at Westfield next month.

Approximately $928.15 has been collected from the cash boxes in the parking meters since they were installed August 12, it was reported today by C. C. McKibben, treasurer for the city. The yield obtained from the boxes opened yesterday amounted to $438.15. Previous amounts collected totaled $490.

BUSINESS WOMEN OPENING PROGRAM

In preparation for a new season of activities, the executive board of the Business and Professional Women's club met in the club's Rae Muirhead Memorial cottage, Lakewood, Monday evening, and had an important business session followed by a hamburger fry.

It was the first meeting of the board this summer and the new club president, Miss Mary Vandivort, presided. Plans for the coming year were talked over and the following committee chairmen were appointed to serve a 12-month term.

Olivia Griffiths, legislative; Mary Bigley, publicity; Dr. Mildred Rogers, finance; Jessie Jenkins, education; Alice Sterling, research; Charlotte Emery, health; Nannie Mitchell, program; Nancy Bechtold, membership; Mrs. Hazel Boyd, public relations; Mrs. Sarah McGinnis, international relations; Lucile Lutton, transportation; Helen White, camp; Pearl Hockenberry, social service; Bess Gailey, magazine.

Because of Labor Day there will be no meeting of the club on the first Monday of this month, but the members will gather at the cottage for a picnic on September 13. Two weeks later on the 27th, there will be a business meeting in the Y. W. C. A. and reports of the Atlantic City convention will be submitted by Miss Vandivort and Miss Geraldine Fry. An executive board meeting will follow.

Wednesday evening of this week the club will have a picnic at the cottage and Lucile Lutton is making the transportation arrangements.

SHOWER HONORS BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Willa Caskey of Mt. Jackson, a bride-elect of September 7, was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening when Miss Mary Alice Towers of the Mt. Jackson road entertained a number of her friends at her home in Miss Caskey's honor.

The house was decorated with fall flowers. The evening was spent in playing bingo with prizes being won by Mrs. Virginia Richards and Mrs. Helen Davis.

A delicious lunch was then served at a table decorated in green and white. Unique favors resembled the bride's veil. The hostess was assisted in serving by her aunt, Mrs. S. H. Pitzer.

After lunch Miss Caskey was showered with many lovely gifts. Out of town guests included Mrs. Helen Davis, Mrs. Virginia Richards and Miss Betty Davis, all of Youngstown, O.

C. U. C. Club.

C. U. C. club members met in the home of Mrs. Florence Fulkerson on Lorain avenue Monday evening.

Two tables of 500 were in play with high scores going to Mrs. Clara Phillips and Mrs. Blanche Lewis. Mrs. Jesse Manning was a special guest.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Pich. The next meeting will be September 13 at the home of Mrs. Fay Davis, County Line street.

Friendship Club

Mrs. Paul La Scala of Mulberry street will be hostess Wednesday evening to the Friendship club.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF W. B. A. AT CASCADE

Sixty members of W. B. A. including the families, participated in the annual picnic held Monday evening at Cascade Park, one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever promoted by the group.

A picnic dinner was served at 6:30 at tables decorated in red and white flowers. After partaking of the sumptuous menu, a series of races was run off, with prizes for many winners.

These follow: Girls under 16, Donna McClintock; fat ladies, Mrs. Clara Rice; boys hop race, Paul McIlvenny; girls, Myrtle Rohrer; thin ladies, Mrs. Alfreda Dodds; girls 25 yard dash, Betty Rohrer; race for boys under 10, Bobbie McClintock; wheel-barrow race, David Sherbine, Paul McIlvenny.

Prizes were also presented to the oldest member present, this being won by Mrs. Tillie Hartman; youngest Junior, Marcellin Ann Burkholder. Bingo afforded still further entertainment, favors falling to Mrs. Charlotte McCullough, Mrs. Blanche Boston, Rebecca McKissick and Mrs. Tillie Hartman. A mystery prize was given to Mrs. Hattie Nowling.

Committees responsible for last evening's event, co-operating with the president, Mrs. Margaret Sherbine, chairman; Mrs. Hattie Nowling, Mrs. Charlotte McCullough, Mrs. Tillie Hartman, table; Mrs. Leola McIlvenny, Miss Anna Patterson, Mrs. Pearl Cook, sports.

Miss Marie Fox was in charge of special features for the Juniors, arranging a treat of lolly pops and other favors for the younger guests.

On Wednesday evening, September 8, W. B. A. will hold a regular meeting in Malta hall at which all guards will be present.

Mrs. Margaret Sherbine and Mrs. Nell Knox formed the reception committee.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED AT REUNION

At the ninth annual reunion of the Morris-Douglas families Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Morris, Youngstown road, the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Morris was observed. They were presented with a 50 piece set of silver.

Dinner was served at one o'clock to 75 guests, supper at six o'clock to 85 guests.

Games and races were played in the afternoon, after which a business meeting was conducted. It was decided to hold the 1938 reunion at the same place on the fourth Saturday in August.

Out of town guests were from Al-i-quippa, Sharon, Beaver County, Beaver Falls, and Meadville.

Century Club

Members of the Century Club assembled at the home of Mrs. Jennie Graziani, on Butler avenue, recently.

A business period was followed by sewing and other informality. Mrs. Ida Fenati and Mrs. Rose DeSanti received an array of lovely hankies for their birthdays. The hostess also was presented with a nice gift from club members. Special guests were Mrs. Frank Graziani and Mrs. Joseph Fazio, both of whom assisted the hostess with a tempting lunch.

September 4, a corn and wiener roast will be held at the home of D. Scialo on the Ellwood road with husbands as special guests. The next regular meeting is dated for the home of Mrs. Romeo Colalucci, Thursday, September 8.

Sanford Reunion

At Cascade Park Sunday, September 5, the eleventh annual gathering of the Sanford family will take place. It will be an all day affair, with dinner at noon and supper in the evening.

DINNER GIVEN FOR MRS. SHALE

Ladies' Auxiliary of the U. C. T. entertained at a local tea room Monday evening at dinner for Mrs. C. C. Shale, who is leaving soon to make her home in Meadville.

After dinner, a social time was enjoyed and Mrs. Shale was honored with a handkerchief shower.

The first regular meeting of the auxiliary will be in the form of a hamburger fry on September 24 at Cascade Park. If the weather is not suitable, it will be at the home of Mrs. George McClelland, Pine street.

GUESTS FROM VICINITY AT CALIFORNIA WEDDING

The marriage of Helen Bradley, of California, Pa., to Charles Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moore, of Pittsburgh, was solemnized Saturday afternoon, at 3:30 in the church at California, Pa.

Those present from near here were Margaret Montgomery, Ruth Moore, Roberta McCommon, Walter Moore, Floyd Moore, of Plaingrove, Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Elder, Youngstown, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Black, of New Wilmington; Misses Mary and Rose McNess, Butler.

These guests who motored to California, Pa., for the wedding, also remained for the wedding dinner which was held at Maldron Inn.

QUEEN ESTHERS MEET ON MONDAY

Queen Esther of Third U. P. church held the regular meeting Monday evening, at the home of their president, Mrs. John J. Kennehan, 920 Ryan avenue. Associate hostesses were Mrs. David Jones, Miss Pearl Colnot and Mrs. Floyd Kelly.

Mrs. Bernard Hook, the teacher, conducted devotionals, after which there was music by Mrs. Morris Houk who contributed vocal solos. The business period was in charge of Mrs. Kennehan. About 30 attended.

A program of games was enjoyed under the supervision of the program committee consisting of Mrs. Harold Walton, Mrs. Cecil Potter and Mrs. Otis Branscome. Prizes were won by Dorothy Kay and Mable Koehler. Mrs. David Brown was present as a special guest, and Mrs. Floyd Shuttles was welcomed as a new member.

In conclusion, the hostesses served a nice lunch. The next meeting will take place October 4.

BREHMS RETURN FROM WESTERN TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Brehm and son, of Wallace avenue, returned home Monday from the west coast, where they visited relatives and friends.

They visited Yellow Stone National Park and said that the western states were in excellent condition, the crops being better than they had been in many years.

Tiger's Auxiliary

Hostesses at the meeting of the Tiger's Auxiliary Monday evening in their club rooms were Mrs. Joseph Clotto, Mrs. Marshall Clotto, Mrs. James Fuleo, Mrs. John Fuleo, and Mrs. Anthony Cioffi.

Cards and bingo were played with the prizes going to Miss Lucy DiCarlo, Mrs. James Scarazzo, and Mrs. Anthony Cioffi.

Mrs. Anthony Cioffi and Mrs. John Salina received gifts in honor of their wedding anniversaries. Mrs. Cioffi also gave prizes to Mrs. Ann DiCarlo, Miss Lucy DiCarlo, and Mrs. James Scarazzo in honor of her anniversary.

Two new members were admitted to the organization Monday evening. They are Mrs. Nicholas Scarazzo and Mrs. Anthony Dominquin.

The next meeting will be on the third Monday of September at the club rooms. Beginning next month the club will have two meetings each month instead of one.

Guests Entertained

On Saturday evening, music, dancing and singing were enjoyed by 75 New Castle relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Krueger, of Smithfield street, who entertained in honor of Baltimore relatives, who are house guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walzer of the Mahoning road.

At the close of the evening the guests were each presented with a small gift in remembrance of their New Castle visit.

The guests are John Eslinger, Mrs. Fred Eslinger, Mrs. William Novak and son, Ronald, Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Marcella Powers.

Emery Reunion

Sixth annual Emery reunion will be held at the home of Fred D. Emery, Fourth street, West Pittsburgh, on Labor Day, September 6.

1907 Club

Wednesday evening, Mrs. George Woodring will entertain the 1907 club in her home on Almira avenue.

RIPPLE COUSINS GATHER IN REUNION

Last year descendants of Lemuel and Samantha Ripple, mostly the cousins, formed an organization which meets every now and then throughout the year, joining with the larger group of the Ripple family in the summer for the big reunion, which is usually at Cascade park.

Last Sunday the smaller group, numbering around 35, gathered at the farm of Joseph Rick on the Harlansburg road for an all day picnic. A chicken dinner was served at noon and in the evening a corn roast featured.

For entertainment Messrs. Uhl and Hazen of Buffalo, N. Y., representatives of the Dodge Motor company, showed motion pictures which were extremely interesting. One entitled "Roosevelt Expedition" showed scenes in Africa. Others were of a traffic nature, stressing safety measures.

Among the guests present were a number from out of town, including C. W. Shingledecker, Mr. and Mrs. Claire Shingledecker and daughter Doris of Hillsville; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Scanlon, Cleveland; George McCreary, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCreary, Youngstown; Mrs. George Cantlebury, Mr. and Mrs. John Linz and son Jack of Baden, Pa.; Mrs. Ada Woodling, Los Angeles, Cal.; Messrs Uhl and Hazen, Buffalo; Miss Miriam Clinefeiter, New Castle.

Local families represented were those of Elmer Reiber, Robert McGill and Joseph Rick. Other guests were Flick Shingledecker, who lives on the farm, and Freda Shingledecker of New Castle.

There will be another meeting of the cousins in the fall, this to be held at the call of the reunion chairman, Mrs. P. J. Scanlon of Cleveland.

SURPRISE SHOWER FOR BRIDE-ELECT

As a courtesy to Miss Grace Lewis who was married this afternoon to Rev. Frank Tyrell, of Bedford, Mass., a surprise shower was given Friday evening in the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Lewis, of Florence avenue.

Hostesses were the Berean Sisters of Primitive M. E. church who presented the bride-to-be with a lovely electric gift. A shower of dainty hankies was tendered Miss Frances Nader, a former class member who is home from Pittsburgh, where she has been studying to become a nurse.

An attractive lunch was served to conclude the affair.

Caprino-Sheen.

Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church, Miss Elizabeth Caprino, daughter of Mrs. Nicoletta Caprino of 813 Pearson street, was married to Norman Sheen, son of Roderick Sheen of Grant street.

The impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. Nicholas DeMira with the bride's nephews, Frank and John Cagnette as altar boys. The vows were exchanged in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends of the couple.

The bride wore a white satin and lace gown, with a long veil which fell from a small cap. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies. As maid of honor, Miss Clara Via wore a powder blue dress, with pink accessories and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Sam DeLeone was best man.

Following the service a wedding dinner was served, and the newlyweds were tendered a reception at the home of the bride. The couple have departed on a trip to Cleveland and other points of interest, returning from which they will reside at 613 Pearson street, where will be found an attractive display of beautiful and useful gifts.

DEEP WELLS IN THE DUST BOWL

THE businessmen of the town of Liberal, Kas., are taking up the dust problem in a practical and direct manner that should commend itself to the common sense of people in all parts of the country.

They subscribed $5,500 with which to irrigate 150 acres with the water from deep wells. The project was dedicated at ceremonies presided over by William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, former governor of Oklahoma. Liberal, by the way, is just over the Kansas line from northern Oklahoma.

The well from which 750 gallons of water are pumped each minute has irrigated fields on which are growing sugar beets, soybeans, melons, corn, onions and alfalfa. Those at the celebration saw corn green and head-high raised on the watered tract, while across the road corn was sparse, dry and only three feet high. Former Governor Murray says 250,000 wells in the dust bowl area would end drought conditions and insure crops to the farmers for all time. He says the cost would be $250,000,000.

Willard Mayberry, secretary of the group of businessmen sponsoring the project, said: "We hope to show farmers and landowners here they can put down smaller wells and grow enough on 20 to 25 acres to make a living when all other dry land crops fail because of drought and dust." It is estimated that the wells to serve 20 acres can be put down for $1,500. Governor Murray thinks they would pay for themselves each year, but some others more conservative think it would take four years.

It may be said for those back of the experiment that they are not asking for either state or federal funds. They are undertaking to demonstrate the feasibility of their idea. If it works, as they expect, the states may be asked to match dollars with the local communities and farm owners. If it works, the public would be much more willing to spend funds on such undertakings in preference to "shelter belts" and some other fantastic dreams.

The extent to which the idea could be expanded seems to be one of underground water supply. Geologists and others who should know might be expected to give dependable data on that subject. If the water is to be had by sinking a large number of wells, and the cost of such wells is not prohibitive, the deep well irrigation idea should be the salvation of some areas in the Southwest. Its proponents, at least, are taking the sensible course of experimenting before advocating the expenditure of large sums of either private or public funds.

BOTTLE SPEED

The Normandie can cross the ocean in less than four days, but it takes a bottle (whether it once contained beer or champagne or castor oil) seven months to make the voyage, scientists have discovered. This is very interesting. We had always figured that when you toss a bottle overboard, that is the end of it. We never thought of the idea of a bottle going places and actually landing in good ship-shape manner.

These scientists were not just playing. They wanted to test the currents of the ocean. So they sealed a hundred bottles, placing cards in each one which requested the finder to mark down the date of the discovery and send it back. The bottles were cast adrift off the coast of Newfoundland.

The first bottle to be heard from was found on the Irish coast on February 14. A little later cards began to come in from Ireland, two from Cornwall, England, and finally France and Spain.

The result of these experiments is not likely to change the political situation of the world nor will it have any effect upon the war in the East, but still it is a rather curious thing that a bottle, without any aid whatsoever, except its own fortitude, can journey the 1,800 miles from Newfoundland to Ireland and still look like a bottle.

HOPEFUL OUTLOOK FOR FALL

So many business predictions go wrong that everyone hates to make them any more. Yet the desire to plan for the future and to try to estimate that future is so strong that it always overcomes the reluctance born of past disappointments.

The fact that almost every surveyor of the business scene today looks ahead to higher business levels in the fall tempts even the pessimistic to be hopeful. Here are some of the indications on which the observers agree pretty unanimously:

The income of farmers, despite the drop in cotton prices, is expected to approach 1929 levels, and in purchasing power it may even exceed 1929 because farmers will be able to get more for their money than they could in those days. Even a drop in cotton prices might not be an unmixed evil if U. S. prices came nearer the world level and thus enabled the United States to regain some of the world cotton trade which has been gradually slipping away from us.

Thus, in the fall season when business activity tends to slump off somewhat, there is every reason to expect this year that business will hold up splendidly or even gain somewhat. All of which augurs well for the future, and gives hope that super-1929 production levels lie ahead that will make some dent in the unemployment problem. For in making a big dent in that problem lies the solution for all the others.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRAIN YOUNGSTERS EARLY

Suppose, my fellow parent, as you listen to a lecture on child guidance or read a book or even as you read this column, you say to yourself: "Yes, that's what I should have done years ago, but I haven't. I can see now that my child should have learned the meaning of 'No' when he was a mere tot. I should have answered his questions accurately when he asked me where babies come from. I should have made his playmates welcome in my home and should have tried harder to help him mingle freely with other children. I should have let him learn to fight his own battles on the playground. I should have let him learn to wait on himself and take on responsibility. I should have encouraged his conversation at the dinner table and about the fireside. I should have told more jokes and enjoyed his efforts at humor more. I should have shown more interest in the things he did and wished to talk about, and so on. What hope is there now that my child is twelve?"

In the first place, don't be so hard on yourself. You probably did many good things for your child that even might overbalance the things you think you have done wrong or failed to do. Keep always in mind that when you listen to an expert, or read a book or article from him, that he probably does not do some things in relation to his family so well as you do, that anyway it is easier to write and say what should be done than to do it—and this applies to what I say and write.

As for control of the child, the older he is the less you can trust to regimen and rule and force. But there's always a deal of hope in love and reason with the older child, especially when you are able to win his genuine affection and esteem. About these other matters such as having failed to answer his questions and to be considerate of his personality, you can improve from now on. Also you might be able to create a relationship to him by which you could probably tell him that you now see that you had done some things wrong, naming them, but from now on you were going to try to do so and so. Then your success will depend upon ability to abide by this resolution.

Southern California is the Mecca for down and outers, it is the objective point for hoboes of all ages, so.

"Westward ho! California's tourist season has only two months more to go."

That is the "scare" headline by which "The Hobo News" informs its clientele: "Best time of the year to travel to the west from New York is from June 1 to October 1." Thus with September and only part of August remaining, the rush—the hump—has zipped past its half way mark.

But omitted by "The Hobo News" in its Helpful Hints is how first class hoboes, second class tramps, and third class "bindle-stiffs" are going to reach California alive.

The odds against it are so steeply stacked that even a Steve Brodie wouldn't take the chance. Last year 2700 such wanderers lost their lives from the freights—228 a month killed during their restless flight from place to anywhere.

Most of these victims were hardy veterans of the road, but not all. Many were between fourteen and twenty-one years of age. Over a hundred were less than fourteen years old.

What of it? Does it matter if "bindle-stiffs" are wiped out like flies, their bodies flung into any convenient potter's field. Who cares anyway?

Well, it so happens that the railroad do care. The Safety Section of the Association of American Railroads has now set in motion an intensive safety campaign to reduce the necessary loss of life resulting from this cause, even though in dollars and cents it may be small, to them how many knights of the road are sniffed out yearly.

Despite the fact that we hear little about it, illegal train-riding constitutes one of the nation's safety problems. It is worth knowing that the American railroads have aggressively begun to work for its solution.

Bible Thought For Today

There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labour.—Ecclesiastes 2:24.

FATHER

Faded and torn may be his clothes, Yet ever I rejoice; And clasp his worn and toil stained hands, and love to hear his voice.

Thrilled to be with one who knows Our love and understands. High heavens host most surely holds A place that's father's own Each earthly care a footstep there On paths up to the Throne. Revealed by love to guide us where God's perfect plan unfolds.

"Way in the world did you ever write a policy on a man ninety-eight years old?" asked the indignant insurance inspector.

"Well," explained the new agent, "I looked in the census report and found there were only a few people of that age who die each year."

"I would like to speak to the manager," he said.
The manager came up a few moments later, and bowed politely.

"You wished to speak to me, sir," he said.
"Yes," said the customer, easily, "you must have a remarkably clean kitchen in this restaurant."

The manager beamed.
"That is very nice of you to think that sir," he said. "Generally it is complaints that I have to listen to. But what makes you think we have such a clean kitchen?"

"Well, the reason in particular," answered the guest, "is because everything I have been served thus far tastes of soap."

By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL—We have no guest room but instead use our spare room as a sitting room where my husband and I may read or sit on such evenings when our two young daughters entertain their friends in the living room.

Could you give me some suggestions for converting this into a combination sitting and sleeping room for the convenience of an occasional over-night guest?—M. J.

Answer—Instead of a divan, buy a daybed or a studio couch which, when not in use as a bed, may be camouflaged with an attractive cover and pillows of chintz or anything else which you might prefer.

A desk with drawer space will take the place of a bureau and will allow ample room for storage of your occasional guest's clothes.

A small table (placed near a window) with a mirror hung over it will suffice as a dressing table.

With these, you may have your comfortable chairs for reading, your floor or table lamps and your bookcases.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader including a self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

The World At A Glance

World Economics Cause Worry.
Currency Needs Stabilization.
Price-Fixing Bill Slips Past.

By LESLIE EICHEL,
Central Press Columnist

THE AMERICAN ambassador to Great Britain, Robert W. Bingham, hurries to Washington. The British ambassador to the United States, Sir Ronald Lindsay, speeds to London. Why? Sino-Japanese crisis? That may be merely incidental.

World economics, a British-American trade and currency understanding would be a better guess. Prices are falling all over the world. Debts are rising. Renewed efforts must be made by the have-something nations to see that the have-nothing countries can share in trade. Otherwise the have-something countries likewise will be drawn into the maelstrom.

Japan's undeclared war on China merely has precipitated at a great speed a trend already moving rapidly. But Japan's move may plunge us all into the economic vortex. The warlike nations seem bent on world suicide.

A PARADOX

Business is not bad. It is excellent for this time of year, indices show. Some industries are breaking records.

But earnings are not breaking records. And workers complain that, despite higher wages, they barely can make ends meet.

People seem to have forgot that the dollar does not buy as much as it formerly did. It is devalued. That was splendid so long as things could be bought at depreciated values. A dollar based on gold may bleed a nation to death, but a currency based on paper is a disaster.

We must reckon the value of our currency now on the commodities it will buy—and it is buying less and less.

Corporations, meeting higher wages and social readjustments, find the earnings curving downward. To raise prices might lessen consumption. The railroad, desirous to raise freight rates, that merely would retard industry and add to the costs of all the people, economists say.

Workers find foodstuffs and clothing rising faster than wages. Thus their standard of living is reduced.

Installment finance companies, sensing the trend, begin to try to curb too extensive credit buying. (This move began in the automobile field.) And so it goes.

TODAY Is The Day

TUESDAY, AUG. 31.

Once Upon Aug. 31st—John Bunyan died 249 years ago today, aged 60, leaving a few books as his sole worldly possessions. One of them was enough to make him an immortal, for it was Pilgrim's Progress.

When he wrote this literary classic, he knew nothing of literature. He was a Baptist preacher, and reading for pleasure was sinful in his day. Jailed when the Church of England forced the government to place a ban upon dissenters, Bunyan began to write a story to pass away the time. The time he had to pass away was 12 years.

How different the bequest of John Camden Neill, who died 85 years ago today in England. For half a century he hoarded a million dollar inheritance, existed miserably, sleeping on the floor, wearing rags, subsisting on scraps. He left his fortune of $1,250,000 to Queen Victoria, who had never heard of him!

Victoria used it to construct Balmoral Castle, now the Scottish royal residence of British kings.

Neill was dwelling in misery with his health around him, when Hermann von Helmholtz was born in Germany, a lineal descendant of William Penn, 116 years ago today.

Pinned to his bed in his youth by feeble health, his parents directed his interest into mathematics to divert his mind. He became one of the world's greatest mathematicians, physicists and physiologists.

One Helmholtz invention was the ophthalmoscope, an instrument of incalculable value to medical science. He got the idea while demonstrating to a class the nature of the glow of reflected light seen in the eyes of cats.

On Other Aug. 31st: 1591—Sir Richard Grenville, in one 500-ton ship—H. M. S. Revenge—with an available crew of 100, through a misunderstanding of orders, was left to battle alone 53 Spanish ships that had been encountered by a British fleet of 16. Cut off from escape, he engaged 15 of the enemy ships for 15 hours before succumbing. Meanwhile, the Spanish lost several ships and a thousand men. The incident is commemorated in Tennyson's "The Revenge."

1611—First cattle arrived in English colonies in America. More than 100 cows, 20 goats and other animals arrived with 300 settlers at Jamestown, Va.

1785—Maj. Gen. "Mad Anthony" Wayne negotiated a treaty at Fort Greenville (Greenville, O.) that is regarded as the most important pact ever made by whites with Americans on this continent. It was one of the few never broken or repudiated. It gave the entire northwest territory into American jurisdiction and upset a British plan to keep it after the Revolution.

1888—An earthquake that was felt in 20 states destroyed most of Charleston, S. C., and killed 41. The entire village of Summerville, S. C., was raised two feet permanently.

1897—Frederick Bickel, photoplay actor known as Fredric March, was born.

Other birthdays: Bert Wheeler, b. 1896, photoplay comedian; Jack Doyle, b. 1913, pretty pugilist; Asa L. Singleton, b. 1876, who enlisted as a private, is now brigadier general in the U. S. army.

1903—The first transcontinental automobile trip ended.

1921—The war between Germany and U. S. ended officially.

1936—Rust brothers' cotton-picking machine was given its first public demonstration.

MODERN BOY'S WARDROBE

At fifteen plain I recall A boy wants shoes of buckskin And a picture shows at all; No telephone, no radio.

And very oft no where to go. I had two suits of clothes, the one I wore till Saturday was gone. And then, for being nicely dressed, The one they called my "Sunday best."

At fifteen mother smiled in pride Of both my shoes were neatly tied. And if I'd nicely brushed my hair That proved I had a mother's care.

That Sunday suit of navy blue Continued long "as good as new." And it was held that such attire Was all a youngster could require.

At fifteen now, it's different quite A boy wants shoes of buckskin And a picture shows at all; And back and tan and pumps to dance.

With clothes for every circumstance: A dinner coat, a set of tails; A manicure to trim his nails. And rags for various kinds of sports Including fancy-colored shorts.

At fifteen now, though lean or fat, A boy must have a neat hat, tied. Three overcoats; two suits of white, And shirts and ties in colors bright. That he, whatever's going on, The proper dress for it may don. That "Sunday best" which I recall Today would never do at all.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Says President Is Still Strong

Farley Is Sincere In Belief That Roosevelt Hasn't Slipped Much

DEMOCRATS HAVE BEEN TOO STRONG

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Postmaster General James A. Farley undoubtedly really means what he says when he pool-pools Republican National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton's assertion that President Roosevelt has "slipped a little" with the rank and file of the country's voters since his re-election last year.

Farley is not merely bluffing. And I think a majority of the Democratic leaders honestly agree with him.

I suspect that many a Republican strategist also inclines to agree with Farley more than with Hamilton.

In fact, I asked one of them, with an important job in the G. O. P. organization, and he answered, "Off the record, I believe that Roosevelt has slipped some, but I'm certain he hasn't slipped nearly enough to suit me."

LIKED PERSONALLY

What I gather is that numerous voters who question the desirability of various Roosevelt suggestions nevertheless like Roosevelt personally as well as ever they did.

This sentiment seems to me to have been summed up very succinctly by the late Senator James Couzens of Michigan shortly before his death.

"Some details of Roosevelt's administration have been bad," the Wolverine statesman told me, in one of the last interviews he gave out, "but his essential sympathies are just right. He's the first president, in my time, who has been with the common man."

Consequently Couzens, though a G. O. P. adherent, was preparing, when he died, to run for re-election as a pro-Roosevelt Republican.

I surmise that he spoke very truly for the average voter.

1938?

Almost assuredly the Democrats will lose some congressional seats at the 1938 election.

If the Democrats gain any, or even hold their present own, the Republicans, as a party, may as well fold up and quit. Already they are outnumbered about 4 to 1. Their collapse, however, will not imply that only one party remains; another will evolve itself, consisting of Democratic dissenters and the few surviving Republicans.

But the juncture has not quite arrived for that. Maybe it will by 1944—hardly sooner.

Logically it is overdue now, but these political realignments lag.

TOO MANY DEMOCRATS

The loss of a few congressional seats in 1938 will be helpful rather than damaging to the Roosevelt administration.

It is a commonplace that an administration with a top-heavy congressional majority is handicapped by it. It quarrels within itself. Huge Republican majorities have done so, and so have huge Democratic majorities. A narrow advantage serves to hold a group together.

It has been a weakness to President Roosevelt to have such a preponderance of Democrats in congress recently.

From his standpoint, it has made him look dictatorial. And it has made congress look like a "rubber stamp". It also probably has made the president TRY to be dictatorial. Likewise it has made congress try to prove that it WAS NOT a "rubber stamp".

There should have been an even balance.

A DELICATE CALCULATION

So it will be all right, from the administration's angle, to lose a few congressional seats next year.

That will scare the surviving Democrats together.

But the administration must not lose TOO MANY seats.

That would involve a loss of prestige.

It is a delicate calculation. Congress must remain Democratic, but it mustn't be TOO Democratic. Indeed, it's too Democratic right now.

Spiritualists To Have Conference

Nineteenth Annual Gathering Will Take Place In King Humbert Hall

On Court House Hill

County Treasurer Joseph Hartland was quite busy yesterday and today taking in taxes from persons who believed in taxes from persons who believed the time limit for payment, less penalty, expired today. However the county commissioners have extended the time until November.

Albert J. Reed, administrator in the estate of Robert A. Reed, deceased, has presented a petition to sell a property of decedent to Duwood D. and Ethel Lesh, for the sum of $800. A hearing will be held.

Sometimes a very small insect may cause a lot of trouble, as Court Stenographer, F. M. Rowland has found. A mosquito bit him on the eyelid, and he is now confined to the house from an infection.

Fifty instruments of all kinds were entered at the register and recorder's office last week. Of this number twenty-seven were deeds and fifteen mortgages. Six mortgages, totaling $16,650 were to building and loan associations; six, totaling $13,925, were to individuals, and three, totaling $8,450, were to banks.

Jury Commissioners Frank Thorn and George Forrest, with Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, drew a jury this morning for a term of common pleas court to be held during the week beginning October 11. This will be the first session of common pleas following vacation time.

Under the will of the late Lulu G. Reese of Plaingrove, which has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office, a farm in Plaingrove township, is left to Elsie Reese, Wayne Reese and Betty Reese, to be kept as a home until Betty Reese arrives at the age of 21 or longer. George Reese is given $2000, with an explanation that he has already been given over $25,000.

Wayne Reese and Betty Reese, are left $500 each for educational purposes; Elsie Reese is given $500 and other bequests. A sister, Margaret E. Collins, and Elsie Reese, are given certain personal property, and the residue to Margaret E. Collins. The executor, the First National Bank of Slippery Rock, is directed to sell stocks held by decedent.

In case George Reese should contest the will the $2000 bequest is revoked and the amount is to be held in trust for Wayne and Betty Reese.

Harry E. Stewart of 810 East Washington street has sent to President Fred L. Rentz of the News company, a plan for the elimination route on the Perry Highway would be resumed. Traffic coming from the north on the Perry highway would also be directed to the right until the highway is reached on the south side of the circle. Traffic going east on the New Castle-Slippery Rock road would also be directed to the right until the road was reached again on the east side of the circle, and the traffic coming west on the same highway would also go to the right. Mr. Stewart makes this comment: "Have lights on all traffic signs and route numbers bearing traffic to right. This traffic circle eliminates all left hand turns. In the east these traffic circles are used on straight, level highways to slow up the traffic and on cross roads to eliminate accidents."

DEAR DADDY—

Since you've been away, mother started using Cuticura Soap on baby brother. He loves it—and Oh!—does he smell good! Mother says it's the purest, sweetest soap she's ever used—and we're all using it now. Love, Mary Ann. Soap 25¢. Ointment 25¢. FREE sample. Write Cuticura, Dept. 41, Malden, Mass.

I suggest that this would be the most efficient and safe way to eliminate this hazard on Routes 19 and 168.

The 69,878 ballots for the coming primary, contract for which was awarded by the county commissioners yesterday, will be apportioned as follows: Republican, 29,290 official and 7,705 sample; Democrat, 19,145 official and 5,845 sample; Royal Oak, 20 official and 10 sample. In addition there will be special ballots for three districts which will vote on the local option issue. The question being whether or not coverage licenses shall be granted within the districts. The townships and ballots to be printed are as follows: Little Beaver, 240 official and 60 sample; North Beaver, 880 official and 250 sample; Plaingrove, 405 official and 90 sample.

MARRIAGE OF JUNE IS REVEALED TODAY

Announcement is made today of the marriage of a prominent local couple, Viola W. Healy and Thomas Sadler, Jr., residents of Wilmington avenue, which took place on June 19, this year, at Baltimore, Md.

The couple was married at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Presbyterian church with Rev. John H. Gardner, Jr., officiating. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Wilbur of Baltimore.

Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Sadler enjoyed a trip to Washington, D. C., and other places of interest in that section. They are now at home to their friends at 1303 Wilmington avenue.

Mrs. Sadler is head of the home economics department of the New Castle senior high school and her husband is affiliated with the I. I. duPont de Nemours Co., this city.

Visit At Toepfer Home.

Here for a week-end visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Toepfer, 300 Hazelcroft avenue, was Mrs. Ruth Hutchman Lewis, daughter of the Rev. Harper Hutchman, former pastor of the Highland U. P. church and now of Pittsburg, Kan., and Mrs. Lewis children, Patricia and Esther. Mrs. Lewis is a relative of Mrs. Toepfer.

They visited here while enroute to Kansas from an eastern vacation.

Descendants of Aaron Kelly held their reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Kelly, Wampum, on August 28. About 150 were present.

Dinner was served at noon after which there was a sports program with horseshoe pitching, a mulligan game, and races.

Supper was served at 6 o'clock. Winners in the events were Betty Parks, Virginia Aiken, James Aiken, Wannita Parks, Dorothy Davis, Hazel Kelly.

A business session was called by Joseph Kelly at which time the following officers were elected: President, Charles Kelly; secretary, Hazel Kelly; treasurer, Leroy Kelly; table committee, Mrs. Ella Hennon, Maude Kelly; sports, Maude Kelly. It was decided to hold the reunion next year on the last Saturday in August at the Wampum Park.

SHOWER HONORS HELEN M. BROWN

Mrs. Arch McClintock, East street, entertained at a surprise shower Monday evening in honor of Helen M. Brown, a bride-elect of September.

Bridge was the main diversion with prizes awarded to Helen Curtis and Janet Brown. Helen Curtis also won the galleon trophy. At the conclusion of play the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Spence, served a delicious lunch. The house was decorated with flowers.

Miss Brown received a beautiful gift from the guests.

KYLE REUNION AT OLD HOMESTEAD

Descendants of William and Nancy Chambers Kyle held their first reunion at the old homestead which is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Kyle, in North Beaver, on Saturday, August 28, with 92 in attendance.

Following the picnic dinner, served at noon, a program was presented. Reminiscences were given by Hugh Kyle. Among his remarks he stated that he, and the two oldest guests, Lon Douglas and Presley Robinson, were the only ones present who had ever seen William and Nancy Chambers Kyle.

Readings were given by David F. Kyle. Vocal solos were rendered by Chester and John Lee Kyle. James McKim gave several vocal solos and played his own accompaniment on the guitar. Group singing, which was led by Mrs. Harry Patterson, Miss Mary Patterson, Mrs. Wylie Craig, Chester Kyle, John L. Kyle, and Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates, completed the program. Samuel D. Kyle presided over the activities of the day.

William and Nancy Kyle were the parents of eleven children, none of whom are living. Only seven members of the second generation were present: Hugh A. Kyle, and Mrs. Samuel D. Kyle, and Mrs. David F. Kyle. Milton Kyle, of North Beaver, and Mrs. Lizzie Patterson of Ellwood City, Howard Chester Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Craig, was the youngest member present. He is a great great grandchild.

The place at which the reunion was held has been in the Kyle family for 170 years.

Special guests were Rev. and Mrs. Chester T. R. Yeates of New Castle, Rev. George Neil of North Beaver, and Rev. and Mrs. T. C. Henderson of West Pittsburg.

Relatives were present from Vandalia, Ill., Evans City, Ellwood, Bessemer, Beaver Falls, Pittsburgh, New Castle and Negley, Ohio.

Seven Killed In Bus Crash

(BULLETIN)

GOSHEN, Ind., Aug. 31.—Seven persons were killed and a score of others were injured when a huge Greyhound Line passenger bus crashed into an automobile, overturned and caught on fire six miles north of here today.

The dead included: A. G. Carpenter, Iowa City, Ia.; Mrs. James Kelleher, Albany, N. Y.; Raymond J. Bufkin, St. Louis, the bus porter. Others were not identified immediately.

School Bands Called To Arrange Details For Labor Pageant

Joseph P. Replogle, director of the Senior high school and Junior high school bands, has called an important meeting of the elected membership of the three bands for 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at Senior high school. Members are urged to be present.

Through special arrangements with the Trades & Labor Assembly, the benefit performance of the mammoth historical pageant to be given at Taggart Stadium, will enable the Citizens' Music Council to provide additional funds for the purchase of uniforms and equipment for the three bands.

Japanese Attack Brings Ultimatums

British, French Ultimatums Declared Effective Midnight Last Night

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—An attack by Japanese troops on British and French police at Tientsin today brought ultimatums from the British and French that if this occurs again, Japanese troops will be fired upon without warning, according to an uncensored dispatch received in official circles here today.

The British and French ultimatum was declared effective at midnight last night, Chinese time, and was not immediately accepted by the Japanese. The Japanese commander said he would move no more troops in the foreign concession effective at noon, twelve hours after the ultimatum deadline.

The British and French authorities acted after they charged Japanese troops with repeated violation of neutrality of the foreign concessions.

Junior Chamber Here Endorses Projects

The Junior Chamber of Commerce today had given full endorsement to the New Castle Motor club's resolution urging the state highway department to make Harlandburg's "death trap" crossing a safer one.

President Presley N. Jones announced. He said the junior chamber has also endorsed the Saturday night historical pageant of the Trades & Labor Assembly, half of the proceeds of which will go to provide new uniforms and instruments for three local school bands.

Elks Lodge Today Half Century Old

Anniversary Here, But Big Celebration Will Be In November

Fifty years ago this day—August 31, 1887—the New Castle Lodge of Elks was officially instituted.

Few passersby at the Elks Home at North Mill and East Falls streets, noticed the cornerstone reading "Instituted August 31, 1887" but the Elks themselves, busy with their golden jubilee anniversary celebration plans, remembered it.

The 50-year life of the Elks will be climaxed when the jubilee, heralded as one of the most notable affairs in lodge history, takes place Thursday, November 18. Many committee groups are making preparations for it. Distinguished speakers are expected to come here.

Convention Next Year

Then, after the 50th anniversary passes, the Elks will fix their attentions on August, 1938, when the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Elks Association meets here. Between 10,000 and 15,000 will come here for it.

Lodge leaders recalled today that Attorney Benjamin Winternitz was the first exalted ruler and that the present Elks home, for which the cornerstone was laid in 1914, stands on the site of the old David Jameson residence. The Jameson home was used by the Elks for some time before the present building was erected. Secretary Jacob Cosel said.

Edmund B. Connelly is the present exalted ruler.

School Bands To Benefit When Pageant Performers Make Debut Saturday Night

"Advance Program" At Taggart Stadium Will Bring Labor Week Cast Before Public

In a stirring and impressive Taggart stadium celebration Saturday evening, September 4, Pa. News and Ma News and the whole News family—the youngest to the oldest—will get a swell chance to glimpse a "prevue" of the four-day-long Labor Day Week pageant that New Castle's organized labor is sponsoring next week.

Debut For Mammoth Show
In reality, the Saturday night show will be a debut for the greater celebration which follows in Taggart stadium.

Standing to benefit if the stadium seats are jammed Saturday are three of New Castle's school bands, the Senior high, the George Washington junior-senior high and the Ben Franklin junior high groups. All three will share a 50 percent chunk of the gate's total—the Trades & Labor Assembly, sponsors of the brilliant historical pageant, will get the other 50 percent to help it finance the outdoor observance.

The wheels of the planning machinery that will make the Saturday night "advance show" the success it should be, were already rolling today.

Music Council Pitches In
All the bands are getting ready and the Citizens' Music council, the group which not so long ago staged a stately May Queen pageant at Taggart field so that the band boys might buy more eye-catching uniforms, was prepared to take up its advance work. The music council got behind the Saturday night show from the very start. Alec Samuels heads it.

"We'll have a show worth seeing, and worth driving a long way to see," one of the Trade & Labor Assembly officials spoke up. "And if we get a break on the weather Saturday evening that football field should see a crowd that will make crowds in the past seem small."

Cast Already In Rehearsals
The cast for the historical pageant is rehearsing and when the "prevue" night arrives will be in fine condition for its opening performance.

On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, at Taggart stadium, the same historical production will be repeated by the same cast. On those nights, the major nights of the Labor Day Week observance, there will be other features, too.

And now the price for Saturday night—just 50 cents, folks!

But for every half dollar that tumbles into the Saturday night gate collection, a quarter goes to help the three school bands to buy new uniforms or to buy new instruments whatever other worthy thing they desire.

Mark a red ring around Saturday, the 4th. Then jet down 8 p. m. and Taggart stadium beside it.

Rabbi N. Diamond Delivers Address

Speaks Before Members Of New Castle Exchange Club On Monday

Rabbi Norman Diamond, of Temple Israel, delivered a most instructive address when members of the New Castle Exchange club gathered in the Elks club, North Mill street, Monday evening for their weekly dinner meeting.

Rabbi Diamond chose as his topic, "Children and Methods To Decrease Delinquency." The group thoroughly enjoyed the comprehensive address.

The Exchange club meets again next Monday night at 5:45 o'clock, in the Elks club.

One Car Stolen; Two Are Recovered

Oldsmobile with Pennsylvania license 7KS24, owned by H. R. Texter, 742 Paul street, was stolen from North street near Beaver street, last night, according to Texter's report to police.

Police reported the recovery of an auto stolen from the Servicenter garage yard. The car was found in West Washington street. The car of R. W. Laughlin, 316½ Neshannock avenue, also stolen from Neshannock avenue, was found in the rear of George Washington junior high school.

SYRIAN CHURCH ENJOYS OUTING

More Than 3,000 Gather For Notable Affair At Willow Grove

Parishers of St. John the Baptist Syrian Maronite church, Howard Way, commemorated the feast of St. John with a most successful outing held at Willow Grove, all day Sunday. More than 3,000 persons gathered for the event.

Following dinner, an athletic program proved one of the highlights. The various contests resulted in much laughter and merriment. The Rev. Fr. Nader, pastor of the church, delivered an appropriate address, welcoming the crowd present from cities throughout the district.

Speeches were made by several of New Castle's prominent citizens. Other speakers included: T. Szyka, of Youngstown, S. Khigir, of Pittsburgh, who was assistant chairman, Joe Salloom, of Sharon, H. John, of Pittsburgh, R. Raffele, of Uniontown and Mrs. Jenny Abraham, of New Castle.

Joe George, presented a weight lifting act that won the applause of the throng.

During the course of the event, Kader Akmed, of R. R. No. 1, Louisville, Ohio, was awarded an automobile, George Karme, of Washington, Pa., an electric mixer, Albert Assad, New Castle, an oriental rug, and H. Oromie, of R. F. D. No. 4, New Castle a wrist watch.

The event was easily one of the biggest and most successful in the history of the South Side church. The Rev. Fr. Nader, through the columns of The News, thanks all those who cooperated in making the affair such a success. The remainder of the committee included: M. Joseph, W. Gabriel, Joe Moses, Charles Bishara, William John, Albert Gabriel, B. Gabriel, Anthony Joseph, George Raffele, P. E. T. Joseph, George George, E. Joseph, Tony Isaac, Jacob Elias, John Saad, George Saad, John Bishara, Alex Bishara, Moses Joseph, Abraham Esper, Joe Mellow, Joe George, Charles Jim, J. Gabriel.

Make Reports Of Minor Accidents

John Sausage, Sampson street, was struck, knocked down and received lacerations of his right leg, left elbow and scalp when he walked into an auto driven by Alfred Lattavo, Canton, O., in Grant street at the end of the Grant street bridge at 11:55 p. m. Monday. He was taken by the autoist to Jameson Memorial hospital. The man had been drinking according to reports provided police.

K. M. Jones, 710 Emerson street, reported a boy on a bicycle rode against his car which Jones stopped at 6:50 p. m. Monday at Mill and Falls street. Jones was driving south, saw the bicyclist and stopped his car. The boy fell from his bicycle, got up and rode away, apparently unhurt.

Bernadine Reider, 1311 Wilmington avenue and Stella Hove, R. D. 2, drove cars that collided at 4:30 p. m. Monday at South and South Jefferson street.

ARE YOU REGISTERED?

New Bedford, Pa., August 28, 1937.

Editor News:
Enclosed is a copy of a poem written by Irwin Ropp, lecturer of New Bedford Grange, and read at the patriotic program given by that grange at Mount Jackson on August 20. It might be of interest to some of the 40 per cent of the rural voters of Lawrence county, who failed to register.

"Practical Patriotism"
We sing "The Star Spangled Banner"

With right hand over the heart. In noisy displays of devotion. We're ready to take a big part. We meet and adopt resolutions. Asking legislators to please note. That's all very fine, but I wonder. Did we register—Do we vote?

We discuss and cuss the big grafters. Call them robbers and crooks, and we know.

The rake-off they took was enormous.

At least a few thousand or so.

The money they waste is terrific; And taxes—"Well they get our goat. Why, if they don't"—One minute, brother,

Did you register—Do you vote?

The forefathers built a new nation. Built it wisely; it prospered and grew.

If now it's as bad as you're claiming. Don't blame them, it's right up to you.

You can't even blame a dictator, Mussolini or Hitler; just note:

This government's in Jewish and your neighbors.

Did you register—Do you vote?

To be considered earthquake proof a building must be capable of withstanding a horizontal pressure equal to one-tenth of its own weight.

RUNDOWN GLANDS—

ARE YOU OLD AT 40?

Millions of men feel old, tired, rundown, incompetent early in life, their reproductive powers ended at 40 instead of 60. Sex Vitamin "E" is now at last obtainable in capsule form, highly concentrated, as a potent tonic for the weak, deficient body. Not an excitant. A safe way to vitality. Try Vitamin E today and feel the return of your former vigor.

Higher-ups May Be Jailed After Raids In Jersey

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 31.—Arrest of two men prominent in New Jersey politics was believed imminent today as an aftermath of concerted raids by federal agents in Atlantic City, Philadelphia and Wilmington, Del.

Acting U. S. Attorney William F. Smith revealed that both men are suspected as higher-ups in the white slave ring which operated the 16 illicit resorts raided early Sunday morning. Under direction of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, who himself led raiding parties on two establishments in Atlantic City, the 22 men arrested 115 women and 22 men.

In addition to these federal agents in New York arrested Harry Roth, 42, described by Hoover as a former lieutenant of Charles "Lucky" Luciano, now serving a 30 year term as a vice racketeer, and Martin Block, 43.

Both men were brought here yesterday and held in bail of $25,000 and $5,000 respectively on Mann Act charges. Teddy Blaine, 21, whom they are charged with transporting from Philadelphia to Atlantic City for immoral purposes, was held in $5,000 bail as a material witness.

LOVE DIES IN TWENTY YEARS

By O. O. MCINTYRE
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Writing is the only calling I know that has innumerable successful practitioners who honestly loathe it. Arthur Somers Roche, who turned out such exciting mystery stories would seize upon any excuse to delay the actual telling of his yarn.

Every magazine editor has several top flight stars who have to be constantly coddled and coaxed to do their stuff. It is not laziness, for they will chop wood, cut grass or anything to avoid it. Sometimes they will delay until actually hungry. Irvin Cobb detests the business. O. O. McIntyre but used to do the figurative hair shirt every day from 5 a. m. to 1 p. m. Edna Ferber shies from the typewriter until the very last moment and then grudgingly turns in what is usually a swell performance. Ditto, Gelett Burgess.

Sinclair Lewis is all enthusiasm discussing a story but the actual getting on the job is self torture. Theodore Dreiser regards writing as the hardest drudgery. Somerset Maugham is always telling his friends that his most recent story will be his last. And so it goes.

Janette Hackett, the dancer and wife of John Steel, the singer, after a sabbatical season in Long Beach came to town the other day and in prowling around Times Square came upon these two window signs:

No. 1: A strawberry soda—built around the biggest blushing berries ever picked. Good thick slices all through lots of ice cream and brimming with fresh effervescence.

No. 2: Banana splits—peaks of frothy ice cream, hemmed in by mellow ripe banana halves. Flooded with rivers of smooth, syrupy chocolate capped with snowy whipped cream.

Miss Hackett had expected to spend the entire day in town, but fled to her roadster and cracked a few speed laws getting back to Long Beach—only stopping enroute to snaffle a plain hamburger with onions.

In his recent fast selling autobiography, "Before I Forget," Burton Rascoe autographs one as follows: "To my friend Odd McIntyre, to remind him that we have both forgotten that we once shied mud pies at each other. Affectionately, Burton Rascoe." Rascoe and I were newcomers to New York at the same time and for some unaccountable reason formed a Mutual Dislike Society. As such lifts usually are, it was silly. We met after many years at a Corey Ford party in Hal Phyle's studio and in five minutes had swung out in a figurative waltz. Instead of swinging from the ankles. That usually happens to people who form pouts at long reach. They meet and that ends it.

That well nigh unbeatable song writing combination, Rodgers and Hart, have not let Hollywood gold beguile their vision. For some years they had long time contracts and enjoyed the leisure of such engagements. But their tunes were far apart, and being creative artists, they chafed. Finally they gave Hollywood a merry ta ta and after a year of planning and hard work got back into stride and during the past year have turned in more hits than ever. Now they are signing Hollywood contracts for "three months only." And then they hie to New York and do a musical show.

Disillusionment: Twenty years ago I knew him and his bride in the first flush of their honeymoon. They were the sort who grew starry-eyed with mutual affection and in the lounge of the family hotel where all of us lived he was constantly gripping her hand in ecstatic squeezes. Our paths diverged and only occasionally did I see him about town. Last night he came to the next table in a restaurant, a bit bald and indicating the darting glance of the philanderer. With him was a practiced charmer, with bright red nails long green cigarette holder and chandelier ear-rings to here. They talked in low voices but once I could not help but overhear: "I have never been understood at home..."

Burt MacBride tells of W. P. A. chief who sent word to headquarters his workers were out of shovels. The reply came back: "Tell the men to lean on each other; we are out of shovels." (Copyright 1937 McNaught Syndicate Inc.)

Housing Projects Will Be Launched

Sixty New Low-Rent Housing Projects Are Being Launched

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Launching of at least 60 new low-rent housing projects within a short time after announcement of the new housing set-up authorized by the Wagner-Steagall Act, is anticipated by federal authorities.

PWA approved engineering, legal and financial status of 62 housing projects more than a year ago when President Roosevelt, by executive order, reduced PWA funds in favor of the WPA work-relief program, according to records.

While those projects were approved on a 45 per cent grant basis, PWA officials said that almost all of them would be workable under the low-rent housing act, if the municipalities sponsoring them desire to go ahead.

Under Secretary Administration observers expect the PWA housing division to be utilized as a nucleus for the new housing administration. Appointment of the administrator is up to the president. The law calls for the new agency to be placed under supervision of the secretary of the interior, but whether Howard A. Gray, director of the PWA housing division, will head the new administration is up to the president.

Under Gray's supervision, first as assistant director of the PWA housing division, then as director last year, PWA has completed and opened for tenancy 11 of its 51 federal projects; 12 more are nearing completion, and the entire program is scheduled to be wound up by next June.

Retailers' Confab At State College

Thorough Interpretation Of 44 Hour Week Act Will Be Highlight

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Aug. 31.—How new state legislation limiting the number of working hours in a week will affect retailers will be discussed during the seventh annual retail conference which will be held at the Pennsylvania State college Oct. 5 and 6.

A thorough interpretation of the provisions of Pennsylvania's new 44-hour week act, possibly by Ralph M. Bashore, state secretary of the department of labor and industry, will be one of the highlights of the extensive program now being developed by the committee in charge of the conference.

Three sessions will be held during the conference. Cooperating with Penn State are the Pennsylvania Retailers association, the Pennsylvania Grocers association, the Pennsylvania Association of Retail Meat Dealers, the Pennsylvania and Atlantic Seaboard Hardware Association, Inc., the Pennsylvania Home Service Tea and Coffee Merchants association and the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical association.

U. S. MARINES STEAMING TOWARD SHANGHAI

Contingent Of 1,300 Enroute

Will Take Up Duty Of Protecting U. S. Citizens In Orient

TO REACH CHINA BY SEPTEMBER 21

(International News Service)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 31.—Steaming westward on the high seas today aboard the transport Champlain and the escorting cruiser Marblehead, 1,300 United States Marines were on their way to embattle Shanghai and adventure.

With them was the remembrance of their departure from San Diego—cheering spectators, tearful sweethearts and wives, the din of factory and ship whistles and the spine tingling music of the Marine band "Playing them to the front."

In sturdy transport
One hundred of the Marines are aboard the light cruiser to man her anti-aircraft batteries, while the remaining 1,200 sea soldiers are on the study transport that carried American troops to France during another war.

Scheduled to arrive Sept. 21 in Shanghai, the Marines will land to strengthen the American garrison which is protecting the lives and property of United States nationals there.

Because of the seriousness of the situation in the Chinese city, a naval regulation which prohibits Sunday departure from port of navy vessels was cancelled for the transport and its convoy.

Commanding the contingent, Brig. John C. Beaumont will succeed Col. C. F. Price in command of Marine forces in the Orient.

SCHOOL BOARD SEEKS TO SET VERDICT ASIDE

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 31.—Seeking to have the court set aside its judgment and order of August 24, in which E. H. Fester and Blanche Crawford were awarded a decision in a test case of the teachers' tenure act, the Adams township school board, through its attorney, W. B. Purvis, petitioned the court to set aside the judgment and order.

Fester and Mrs. Crawford instituted mandamus proceedings against the Adams township school board because they claimed the school board had failed to comply with the teachers' tenure act of April 6, 1937.

Improved Weather Forecasting Planned

An enlarged program to insure greater accuracy in airway weather observations by the United States weather bureau is now under way, according to W. R. Gregg, chief of the bureau. The bureau can now send out trained observers to about 40 stations equipped with teletype and reporting hourly on airway meteorological conditions to all other stations on the teletype circuit. Much of this work has been done by untrained observers.

Four pilot balloon observations will be made each day at all airway stations in the country. Many of these stations have never been able to take more than two or three such observations daily. Tests are now under way with 14-inch balloons, with a view to substituting them for the present 6-inch balloons. Visible much farther up in the air, and having a higher ascensional rate, the larger balloons provide more data for observers and forecasters.

More trained meteorologists will be assigned to the airway weather forecasting centers. They will prepare the additional charts and maps necessary for regional and terminal forecasts to be used by aviation interests.

The weather bureau will supply all the meteorological equipment necessary at about 50 new teletype stations to be established by the bureau of air commerce for making hourly weather observations. Reports from certain off-airway stations will be increased from one every six hours to one summary every three hours.

LONDON REPORTS SHARP INCREASE IN POPULATION

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 31.—London today claimed "tops" for population, with a total of 8,203,942 persons living in the Greater London area.

Official figures showed that since 1921 the population of the City of London—jamed "square mile"—has dropped from 13,709 to 10,999, but that the population of Greater London has increased from 7,480,201 to 8,203,942.

Explanation of the apparent disparity is that the City of London's population consists of janitors and office help resident in office buildings. By day the city has a population of approximately 3,000,000, but the vast majority live outside the square mile.

Methodists Ready For Annual Event

Methodist Day To Take Place On Wednesday At Greenville, Penna.

Methodists from New Castle and Lawrence county and from the other sections of the Greenville district will go to Greenville Wednesday, September 1, for the annual Methodist Day which will be held in Riverside Park. Weather indications seem to point to clear, bright picnic weather and if these indications prevail on Wednesday the crowd attending the picnic should be large.

Dr. W. A. Womer, of New Castle, is the general chairman of the day with a host of committees handling the various activities of the day. The sports program is an especially large one with a baseball game between the ministers and the laymen the feature of the day as it always is.

This evening in the park, Dr. William H. Crawford, president emeritus of Allegheny College, will be the main speaker, with congregational singing featuring the first half hour of the meeting period.

The Grove City district of the Erie Conference contains over 100 churches and approximately 25,000 members. With good weather on Wednesday, the attendance should run into several thousand.

Mercer County Man Is 95 Years Of Age

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 31.—L. Lambert Owens, New Lebanon, celebrated his 95th birthday anniversary Saturday at the home of his son, John W. Owens, with whom he has made his home for the past several years.

"Granddad" Owens, as he is known to his friends, was born in Franklin, August 28, 1842. He has been a resident of New Lebanon for the past 52 years. He is in good physical health aside from failing eyesight. He takes a keen interest in world events, politics and science.

One-Room Schools Are Still Plentiful

Although the trend in rural school circles has been toward consolidation during the past decade, Lawrence county still has 48 one-room structures which will be in use this term, it was disclosed at the office of County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling, today. This number is four less than last year.

In addition to that number of one-room buildings, there will be ten two-room structures, in different sections of the county, which will be in use.

The number has gradually been decreasing, but not as rapidly as in some other localities.

In Allegheny county, for instance, there will only be 12 one-room buildings in use this year, while ten years ago there were 200.

Back in 1920, there were 111 one-room structures in Lawrence county, with close to a half-dozen one-room high schools. In 1922, the number had dropped to 102 one-room elementary schools and four one-room high schools. In 1924, the number had dropped to 96 one-room elementary buildings and three high schools.

Today there are no one-room high schools, but the number of one-room elementary buildings is fairly high.

Some townships do not have a single one-room school, while Mahoning township, for instance, has five one-room buildings and one two-room structure, in addition to the Hillsville Consolidated school.

Neshannock township has five one-room buildings, and two consolidated structures. Neshannock Public and Clemenore, Perry township has the Wurttemberg Consolidated and five one-room structures. Pulaski township has the New Bedford Consolidated, the two-room school at Pulaski, and five one-room buildings. Wilmington township has six one-room structures.

Slippery Rock township leads them all in one-room buildings with nine one-room structures, the two-room building at Rose Point, and the Princeton high school and elementary building. Union township has the Union high school, the consolidated schools, Sunny avenue, four-room building, and five one-room structures.

Nature's Best Flower Display Seen In Park

More than 1,150 varieties of flowering plants, all blossoming in Yellowstone National Park, stage one of the most colorful shows available to American travelers, according to Dr. C. Max Bauer, park naturalist. With better growing conditions this year than in several previous seasons, the brilliantly hued flowers bloomed in much greater numbers than for some time past. Dr. Bauer reported. Particularly spectacular are the flaming red and pink fireweed and the vivid blue pentstemon, found in all parts of the more than 2,000,000-acre park. Motorists along the Dunraven Pass road reported seeing an abundance of red monkey flowers, harebells and bright blue polomonium.

The plants hit their peak of color and numbers in middle August, Dr. Bauer says, but because later flowers take the place of those dying out the colorful exhibition remains at its best until September.

As many as 500 species may be in full bloom at one time. Because of different maturation seasons about 500 is the maximum that can be seen in bloom at one time.

Federal Man Speaks Before Rotary Club

"The Duty and Functions of a Federal Agent" was the topic of the address R. J. Untreiner, special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, delivered before New Castle Rotarians at their weekly meeting yesterday.

In the talk the young government man praised local police officials for their cooperation in handling cases. J. Lee McFate introduced him.

Rotary will not meet Monday, September 6 because of the Labor Day holiday.

Judge Musmanno Will Resume Job

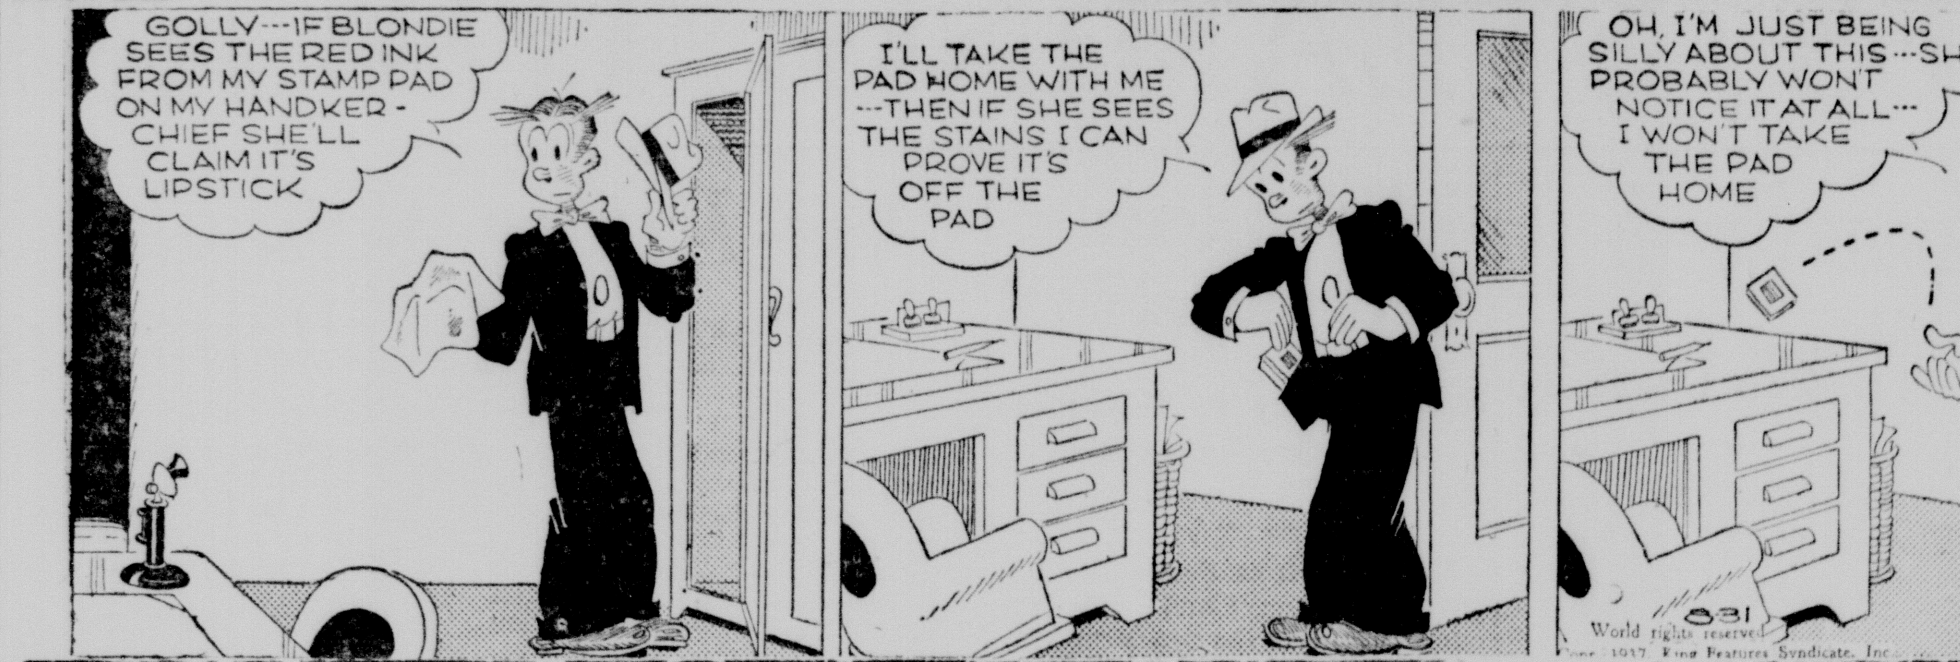

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—Judge Michael A. Musmanno, denied the use of his voice for the past five months by a throat ailment, will return soon to his bench in common pleas court, ruling with the aid of pencil and paper, it was revealed today.

Musmanno, now concluding a 30,000 ocean trip taken for his health, revealed in a letter to friends here he would not be able to speak again until October 19. He lost the use of his voice following a collapse at an Indianapolis labor meeting.

"I am still on the pencil and pad treatment," he wrote. "However, the sealing of my lips will not impede me in my work as I can hear equity and non-jury trials where the occasion for judicial utterance is limited to rulings of evidence, which I can easily make through the artificial larynx of my pad."

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Traffic Heavy
This Week In
Ward District

Liberty Street Is Artery For Two Main Highways Of This State

An exceptionally large amount of traffic has been noticed over the week-end and on Monday, according to reports made by the police officers on duty in this section.

Nearly all of the traffic on Liberty street is through traffic, using routes 18 and 224.

The district is also a great truck circuit and many heavy trucks and trailers pass through the section daily enroute to points east and west.

On Sunday the traffic was unusually heavy due to the fact that a number of picnics were being held in the parks below the Seventh Ward and the picnickers passed through the ward enroute to their picnic.

Trespasser Has Foot Crushed By Train On B. & O.

Accident Occurs On East Bound
Train Stopping In Seventh Ward

As an eastbound freight train on the B. & O. railroad, headed for New York, made a stop in the Seventh Ward yards at 1 o'clock this morning, Robert Tucker, 20, of Caroleen, Rutherford county, North Carolina, had his right foot and ankle caught and crushed between two of the cars.

According to railroad officials, Tucker was trespassing on the railroad property and was standing on a draw bar when the cars when the train came to a stop. The stop brought the cars together crushing his foot between the draw bar and another car.

Tucker was removed to the New Castle hospital where his foot was treated. It was found that it had been crushed, but the full extent of the injuries were not learned late this morning.

Mrs. Alice McClure, school teacher, and Miss Jane Kyle, school teacher. Four cash awards will be given to the winners of the contest, who in the eyes of the judges are the "best" performers of the show.

The show is for the residents of the Seventh ward, and only residents of the ward are eligible for entrance into the amateur contest.

Liberty street park at the bandstand will be the scene of the affair, which is scheduled to begin at 7:45 o'clock. A number of other entertaining acts in addition to the amateur group has been planned and a good show is in the offing.

Campers Hold
Farewell At Cottage Grove

All of the campers at Cottage Grove, of which several ward families are represented, gathered Monday evening for their annual farewell party. The affair was in the form of a tureen dinner and was on the lawn of the George Horcher camp.

Fifty people sat down to a delicious meal at 6 o'clock. Large bouquets of gladiolas, dahlias, cosmos and other flowers made an attractive setting for the table.

Bingo playing was enjoyed with prizes going to Mrs. I. D. Wagner, Mrs. Grant Shaffer and Jean Himmerman. The prizes for these games were donated by Jack Gerson.

Special guests were Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Himmerman and children Paul, Robert, Jean and Donnie, and Miss Nancy Jane Thomas, all of Bellevue; and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Shaffer, of New Castle.

The committee included Mrs. George Horcher, president; Mrs. W. R. Bumbaugh and Frank Gibson.

Mr. Gibson was named as president for the coming year and he appointed the following committee: Mrs. Horcher, Mrs. Bumbaugh and Thelma Bumbaugh.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT
Engagement of Miss Rose Matteo, of 107 South Liberty street, to Albert Pedro, of Lafayette street, was announced at a small gathering of friends and relatives on Saturday.

Date for the wedding was announced to be during the month of November.

REPAIRING PORCH
Remodeling work is being done by Dave Cochran to the porch at his home on East Clayton street.

A great improvement is being made to the porch and front of the house which will add much to the attractiveness of his property.

TRIANGLE SOCIETY
Members of the Triangle Missionary society of the Madison Avenue Christian church will meet at the church at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and transportation will be furnished to the home of Helen Douds, Epworth street, where the regular meeting will be held.

Louis Defeats Farr In Fifteen Rounds

Welshman From Tonypandy
Upsets Dope, Proves
Hero In Defeat

STYLE, COURAGE
PUZZLES CHAMPION

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports
Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Joseph Louis Barrow, bless his clod-like and uninspired soul, is still the heavy-weight champion of the world today, although frankly he cannot lick you and will not lick you unless he could win by a knockout. He may have in his left or right Thomas George Paul Farr, of Tonypandy, Wales, was the loser before 30,000, or less, at the Yankee stadium last night.

Conservation? Call it chaos. Either way, the worst real disaster was visited upon the ringside experts, only one of whom—according to my knowledge—picked Farr to last longer than the mouse with the lion. I'm not here to chide experts. We're comical enough as it is.

This is definitely a flat introduction to at least it's in keeping with Louis' performance. If that was any flatter, we'd have to send out the PWA and tear up the road bed. Understand me, I'm not calling a man off the gallows because he would win the way we said he would and must; only because he wouldn't.

Make anything you want of it; write to your congressman, call in the cops. The writer is here to say what he said when Louis finished fifteenth, namely on the floor, to Schmeling a year ago. The man won't fight when he's hit too often, not too often before. He was hit too often—by a comedian puncher, at that—last night and he was backing away and blinking and, quite painfully, often retreating.

Farr, Hero In Defeat
It is customary to revile a man who has been tossed into prominence as a never-missed guy in connection with the heavyweight championship. We did it with Baer who was 10-1 against Braddock and the novelty was at least refreshing. We did it with Schmeling against Louis and attempted to apologize. We won't, in all humility, attempt the same thing against, about and for Farr.

The quickest and the best thing that can be said for the Welshman is that he almost won and didn't quite make it, a somehow heroic figure, who obviously didn't quite have it, but was so courageous—a word that we timorously use—that at the end he was so much the hero that galleries beat the gendarmes into the ring to seize his hand and had to beat Referee Donovan to it.

They had seen him take what apparently were Louis' best punches through the middle rounds and then,

Louis' hope to take really something out of really nothing and thus save his reputation for posterity or prosperity—or what was it that they were around the corner?

By this time, I think it must have been Joe Louis.

New York, Aug. 31.—What did you think of the fight? Why didn't Louis use his right more often? These were some of the questions being asked today following Tommy Farr's sensational attempt on Joe Louis' heavyweight crown.

Here are some of the answers: Max Schmeling—Louis won and defended his title. But the fight shows why he is ducking me.

Joe Louis—I banged up my right hand in the third or fourth round. That's why I had to fight one-handed.

Tommy Farr—No alibi. I promised you a good fight and you got it. Jack Dempsey—The reason Louis didn't use his right more is because Farr kept that long left hand in Louis' face.

John Roxborough—We told Joe to take no chances after he hurt his hand.

Jim Braddock—I thought Joe won handily.

Jimmy Johnston—Louis defended his title, but just about.

Mike Jacobs—Farr did me a good turn last night. He proved he was not the lemon he was labeled by some of our alleged experts.

Style Puzzled Louis

O' well; why go on too fulsome-ly? There's all too little to add—though we must, because they did. Farr with his crouch, with no punch but willing to throw it on the slightest provocation. Louis unable, sometimes unwilling, to throw his best punch on any. Was he too timorous? Only Louis knows that.

He just happened to meet a gent with a style that was too much for his straight-ahead technique—or can it be possible that I mentioned that days ago? Can it also be possible that Louis has so little variety that he can't definitely lick anybody but a stand-up fighter, as of Carnera, Levinsky, Baer and Braddock? Or that Schmeling and Farr, who fight that way, also won't lose that way?

All I know is what I see in the ring. Louis, overconfident or otherwise lost the first two rounds because he wouldn't try, and won the next three because he apparently would. At this point, it looked as though the cut under Farr's right eye would work his undoing. He was bleeding like something from the Abbot and they were talking about an impending knockout.

But Louis, in spite of persistent lefts, couldn't make Farr bleed too much more, and finally for a time, could no longer make him lose. For the Britisher fed up with that and finally unimpressed with this dreaded punch, began to come on again and finally in the eighth had Louis definitely on the retreat.

Reason Why Louis Won

By the eleventh, he seemed to have him licked, being ahead in my score at six rounds to five. Louis came on the rest of the way, not much but enough.

They apparently told him in his corner what to do. Don't stand, but jump back from Farr's leads; don't wait, but lead with a straight left. He did, the rest of the way—and won.

In fact, he almost won in the thirteenth and by a knockout, at that. Farr, crowding in, was nailed by a right cross and almost went down. He finished so far back on his heels that he seemed almost transfixed as he stood there, teetering precariously; simultaneously the force of the punch drove Louis back into the ropes. Before he could recover—he couldn't.

The bell had rung, ending the round, and with it came the end of

'Joe Easy To Hit And Easy To Hurt'

Last Night's Fight Proves
Champ Is No Super-Fighter

MORAL VICTORY FOR
FARR, EX-CHAMP SAYS

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports
Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—"I've said repeatedly before that Louis is easy to hit and easy to hurt, and also can be thrown off stride by the unexpected," Jack Dempsey, the old man-mangler himself, said today reviewing last night's heavyweight title fight between Champion Joe Louis and Tommy Farr.

"In addition to that, I think it has been definitely proved by now that Louis is not a super-fighter," Dempsey added speculatively.

However, Dempsey remained about as bewildered as everybody else—all the experts—over the outcome of the battle, in which Farr was expected to be belted out whenever the bomber got ready to blast.

Without wishing to break a confidence, I can report now that a few days ago Dempsey—off the record—picked Louis to win by a knockout in two or three rounds. Dempsey toned that down for publication to read that Farr would have to change in ten days a style developed thru ten years, and would have to find a defense against Louis' paralyzing short punches.

That's approximately the way it looked to everybody else in advance—until the dead game and rugged Welshman climbed in there last night and, spotting the champion everything, made a battle of it for 15 rounds.

"It really was a moral victory for Farr," Dempsey said.

What he meant was that Farr unanimously was picked to lose by a knockout and, instead, came very close to winning the championship.

Cut Prove Handicap.

"It's too bad Farr isn't a puncher," Dempsey said, meaning that the form sheet would have been more thoroughly scrambled and the odds would have been even more confused. A 7 to 1 underdog might have won the title by a knockout.

"At that, if Farr hadn't come into the ring with easily cut eyes he might have won on points," Dempsey added. "He was coming strong toward the close, despite the bloodshed that oozed from his cheeks and eyes."

"Farr turned out to be a surprising game, smart and tough fighter, considering what he showed in work-outs, and even considering his record."

"The tougher the fight got and the more he was hurt, the more he waded in. And if anybody wants to know why Louis didn't use his right hand more, I can answer it; because Farr kept that long left hand in Louis' face."

"That left, Farr's awkwardly clever style, his courage and ruggedness made a great fight of what everybody thought would be just another quick knockout."

Grove City Will Have New Coach

GROVE CITY, Aug. 31.—James Loveless, newly elected football coach at Grove City college, will arrive here on the 15th, according to his letter to college officials. He will hold the first football practice with the opening of the fall semester on the 19th.

Loveless, formerly athletic director at Southeastern Teachers college in Oklahoma, succeeds "Bill" Amos, an All-American grid star at Washington and Jefferson, who resigned this spring to accept a flattering offer at Washington, Pa., as high school coach. Amos has been here five years. He is moving his family to Washington this week.

Charles Zimmy, 46, Finishes Albany To New York City Swim In 149 Hours

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Sleeping the sleep of exhaustion, Charles Zimmy, 46-year-old legless swimmer, was on the "not serious" list at Harlem Hospital Monday after swimming here from Albany, a distance of 145 miles which he negotiated in 149 hours without leaving the water.

Alternately eating, sleeping, smoking cigars and occasionally taking a few strokes in the 3-mile-an-hour current, Zimmy experienced no difficulty except for occasional cramps until he reached the tide-swept waters above New York harbor.

Slept By Tide

Scheduled to end his swim at the foot of 129th street, Zimmy was caught by a strong ebb tide which swept him downstream in peril of countless ferryboats and tugboats in the lower reaches of the river.

The 30-foot motorboat, bearing a pilot and six guards, which accompanied Zimmy on his journey, lost sight of him in the darkness and it took a police boat's searchlight to find the swimmer clinging to the rocks of the New Jersey shore opposite 98th street.

He was taken aboard his accompanying boat and conveyed to a point above 129th street where Zimmy re-entered the water and swam up to the dock where several hundred persons were awaiting his arrival—also an ambulance.

Zimmy was popped onto a stretcher, but not before he announced his next exploit would be a swim from Key West to Havana.

"Sure, I feel fine," he replied to questions. "But this feels the best of all."

He relaxed luxuriously in the stretcher and lighted a cigar. A few moments later the cigar fell from his lips. He was sound asleep.

Optimistic Feeling

"Our first eleven," he continued, "will give any team on the schedule a battle. But you can't win major games any more with eleven men. We have plenty of backs and a fair supply of ends. That's our chief reason to feel good. Our kicking and passing must be developed, we need an experienced quarterback, and we need reserves."

Lettermen expected to be on hand Wednesday include: backs—co-captain Sammy Denard, Dunmore; Harry Harrison, Philadelphia; Johnny Patrick, Pittsburgh; Windy Wear, Huntington; Joe Metro, Monongahela; ends—Joe Adessa, Cortland, N. Y.; Carl Waugaman, Greensburg; Alex Barantovich, Monongahela; tackles—Dean Hanley Altoona; Dan DeMarino, Greensburg; guards—captain John Egnonhos, Pittsburgh; Sever Torselli, Monongahela; center—Paul Enders, Greensburg.

Only one change in the coaching staff has been made. Jack Hulme, athletic trainer at Westminster College since 1926, will train the football squad and all other teams this year. He replaces Tommy Slusser who resigned to become boxing coach and assistant football coach at V. P. I. Two new assistants, who have not yet been named, will help Marty McAndrews with the freshmen squad.

N. ROSS ANOTHER STAR

Another football star who should not be overlooked is Nick Ross, of the Rads, one of the spark plugs of this season's team. He has played on seven championship teams, three times with Lockleys and four years with Rads. He is one of the sweetest roving short stops in the city.

Thirty Eight Auto Pilots To Compete

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 31.—The largest field of racing machines that has ever competed in a racing meet here, or in fact in this section of Pennsylvania, will be entered in the big holiday championship event which will be held at the Altoona Speedway on Labor Day, September 6.

This was assured today when the Altoona management announced that signed entry blanks has been returned by 38 drivers, 24 of which will start in the main race next Monday afternoon.

Pallerino, Probst Heaviest Hitters

Batting Of All-Stars May Prove Menace To Bessemer

Lawrence County league All-Stars will hold their first practice at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday at Washington Field and climb into action against Bessemer, loop champions at 5:30 p. m. Thursday on the same field.

"Jewie" Coen will manage the All-Stars. On the line-up are some of the heaviest hitters in the league. The only two players who didn't have much opposition are Probst and Adams.

Here's the batting average of the players who will oppose Bessemer: Sovesky .390; Pallerino .397; Updegraph (outfielder) .301; Pontana .348; Probst .338; Bevan .287; Scala .337; Adams .401; Capitola .338; Micco .304; Donegan .356 and Swisher .300.

The pitchers will be D. Updegraph, Ostrosky, Brinko and Coates.

The ability to remember isn't enough. What we need is a memory trained to forget the right things.

RUSSOS VS. DEWEYS

Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, at Dean park, Russos, first half champs of the Midget Softball league, will battle the Dewey A. C. The game is anticipated to be loaded with action.

Both Fighters Injure Hands

Louis Believes He Can Kyo Welshman In Second Fight

FARR BELIEVES HE CAN DO BETTER

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The fight's over. They're back in their dressing rooms. Let's get 'em while they're hot—when they'll say just what they mean.

Louis first. He comes into the visitors dressing room at the Yankee stadium. Drops down on the rubbering table used by his Tiger baseball heroes—Greenberg, Cochran, Gehring and York.

Joe's sporting a plop of a shiner. Right eye is discolored, swollen, half closed. He dabs at it. Jack Blackburn strips off the bandages. Dr. Chester Ames, Detroit, examines his hands and says Joe has a swollen metatarsal bone on his right hand.

Joe talking: (Plaintively) 'Look! Doc, my right hand's on the bum. Bumped it up in the third or fourth. That's why I had to fight one-handed. Look at that right thumb. Musta pulled the nail back somehow. See, it's all red under the nail. Guess I'll lose it. And, look at mah left. Knockles all blue and swollen. Sure do hurt. Doc.

"Huh? Oh, Farr? Yeah, he's game all right. Put up a good fight. He's a pretty good boy. But he can't punch a lick. No, he never hurt me once. I just told you he can't punch a tall.

"I thought I had him going once. Joe, before the bell in the thirteenth. When I hit him with a left hook. Maybe if I'da had a minute more I mighta finished him.

"Huh? What say? Oh, yeah. I think I'd sure knock him out if we fought again."

No Alibi From Farr
Now let's hop into the Yanks' old dressing room. There sits the blond Welshman. Face puffed. Nose and lips swollen. Both eyes mere slits. Almost entirely closed. Deep cuts under both.

Ted Breadribb is patching him up. Around them a milling mob of sports writers, friends from the homeland, handiers, cops, officials. Flash lights popping all over the place.

Says Farr, smiling through lips now thicker than Louis':
"No alibi, boys. I promised you a good fight and you got it. I hope all my friends on the other side will be proud of me. I told you I wouldn't be a bit afraid of Louis and I wasn't. And I think I marked him up some, too. I think it was pretty close."

"Can he hit? Oh, oh, can he hit? I'll say he can hit. He's the greatest puncher I ever met. Every time he lands, he hurts."

"Louis's the best fighter I ever fought and the best I ever saw. I busted a finger on my right hand in the third round. I'm not saying that as an alibi but I will say it didn't help me any."

"I'd like to fight him again. I think I'd do better now that I know his way of fighting."

And maybe he would at that.

DIAMOND SPORTS

SOFTBALL GREAT SPORT

Without a doubt, softball experienced one of its greatest seasons since the sport was introduced here about 10 or 11 years ago. The sport not only proved a favorite one with former athletes in baseball and other summer sports, but attracted new players in the midwest ranks. Some of the outstanding softball artists were: Tex Richards, Fussy Neyman, Mike Polenick, John Teplica, Chuck Summers, and Tony Nocera, members of Nobilis, Pete Zingaro, Ted Turco, Nickie Gennock Sammy Bullano, Frank Copple and Yanks Alfieri, Saks' members, Greg Ross, Elroy Lockley, Eddie Hilton, Nickie Ross, Gabby DeCaprio, Jack Llewellyn, Fornataro, Dundo, Ambrosia and Austin Cowmeadow with the championship Reds.

WEAVERS' STARS
Outstanding members of the Weavers of the Seventh Ward were: Skip Russo, L. Turk, Lateano, J. Weaver, Wilson and Bumbaugh. The Strollers featured, F. Nocera, Lane, Carson, H. Riley, Dely and Evans. Star performers on Johnson-Bronze: L. Pascarello, G. Yerace, Phillips, Clark, L. Turco, B. Marcella, Jr., and Bosco. Andy Boves, J. Quinn, DeMonaco, Adams, N. Beres and Lazar played brilliantly for West Pittsburgh.

CRISCI PRESIDENT
With Franklin Crisci at the head of the City Softball League, the organization enjoyed a most successful season. Everything functioned in clocklike fashion with Crisci at the helm. Four years ago, Crisci was the Babe Ruth of the circuit, clouting 30 homers in one season.

Farr's Supporters Are Stunned Today
Many Rabid Welsh Followers Believe Farr Won Decision

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 31.—Joe Louis' 15-round decision over Tommy Farr, pride of the British empire, in New York, has stunned the Welsh supporters of Farr, who were expecting a close fight.

The majority of the people in the British Isles stayed up into the early hours of the morning to hear radio broadcasts of the battle, and the broadcast description of Farr's game attempt to win the world heavyweight crown was so glowing that announcement of the final decision came as a distinct surprise to fight fans here.

Farr's home town, Tonymandy, in Wales, echoed with the excited screams of 5,000 men, women and children who listened to the fight broadcast from the United States. Many of them felt that Farr had won the title.

Johnny Romero Defeats Bruce

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—Lambasting local and from pillar to post with apparent ease, Johnny (Bandit) Romero of Los Angeles, more than evened his score with Red Bruce of Pittsburgh today by giving him as sound a trouncing as any fighter could.

The last time the pair met, Bruce held the upper hand and won a decision. Last night, Romero came back to floor Bruce six times, four times for the count of nine, twice for three and once for two. He went to work methodically on a body attack to compile points and regain his reputation. The decision was unanimous.

Dr. Ralph Bastress Grove City Champ

GROVE CITY, Aug. 31.—Dr. Ralph A. Bastress is the 1937 grove champion of the local Country Club, winning the finals yesterday, one up from Dr. Wayne Daugherty. The title was decided on the 36th green when Daugherty's 20-foot putt rimmed the cup on his bid for a birdie for needed to square the match.

Bastress, runner-up last year, was three down on the first four holes of play, but recovered and led, two up, at the end of 18 holes. He was three up on the 32nd green, but lost the 34th and 35th, and his par five was worth a half of the final hole.

The winner scored a 74-77, while Daugherty put together a pair of 77s to trail by three strokes in the medal.

T. H. McKean, Clintonville, won the second flight title, by defeating L. P. Williamson, 5 and 4.

RUSSOS WALLOP MARCELLAS, 9-2

Smashing out 12 lusty wallops, the Russos softball team defeated the Marcellas 9-2 Monday at the Rosena grounds.

Angelo Lamorella was on the mound for the winners and allowed but three hits. Don Scarazzo was the opposing moundsman. A Morrell, H. Mastern and C. Ross were heavy hitters. A Cozza provided the heavy hitting for the losers.

The Russos will play the winners of the Miller-Hood series next week for the Midget Softball League title.

Score by innings:
Marcellas 000 002 000—2 3 2
Russos 000 203 13X—9 12 1

Batteries: Marcellas—Scarazzo and Colloio; Russos—A. Lamorella and Nigro.

The 34,000,000 tons of finished steel produced in the United States in 1936 will have an average life of 33½ years, the American Iron and Steel Institute calculates. Fifty years ago steel had an average life of about 15 years.

Millers Top Hoods In Series Opener

Play-off For Second Half Title Of Midget League Gets Underway

In one of the finest pitching exhibitions of the season with Cowden and Theopolis as the principals, the fighting Miller aggregation won the first game of the series for the second half race of the Midget Softball League, defeating the Hoods, 2-1, at Clifton Flats, Monday.

Cowden was in superb form, whiffing 14 batters and gave up but three hits. Theopolis, the Hood's mound ace, pitched a wonderful battle, giving only 5 hits. With the count tied in the eighth, Waslin lined out a pretty double to right center Lubinsky followed with a triple, scoring Waslin with the winning marker. One of the biggest crowds to ever watch a midget league game was on hand.

The winner of the Miller-Hood series will play the Russos for the Midget Softball League title.

Score by innings:
Hoods 000 010 000—1 3 0
Millers 000 100 01X—2 5 0

Batteries: Hoods—Theopolis and Wehr; Millers—Cowden and Clark. Umpires: F. Augustine and Dave Riley. Scorer—Patty Guido.

Two base hit—Wenda, Newell, Hook and Waslin.
Strike outs—Cowden 14; Theopolis 8.
Bases on ball—Cowden 4; Theopolis 2.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Charley (Pop) Kelchner, St. Louis Cardinals scout, is in charge of the scouting contingent that will pass judgment on the boys who are attending the baseball try-out at Titusville, according to a letter from Oliver B. French, president of the Cardinal-owned Rochester club of the International League, which is sponsoring the camp. The purpose is to discover new talent. Kelchner is assisted by Pat Crawford and Heine Mueller, former big league players. Boys between 17 and 23 years of age are attending the camp. Pat Callahan of the local legion said several days ago he proposed to take several New Castle boys to the camp.

Apparently everybody fistically inclined in the United States excepting Tommy Farr from Tonymandy was wrong last night, the Welshman having gone 15 rounds with Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion. Boiling the reports to the bone it might be said that Farr took everything that Louis had and then came on for more and at times he gave plenty. His style and courage puzzled the champion and the boy they said couldn't fail to lose. Today is a hero in defeat and can't wait to fight something worthwhile to say about terms when he is asked to fight again in the United States. Last night's embroilment was as big an upset as the Schmeling-Louis encounter.

Baron Von Cramm and Heinrich Henkel, Germany's tennis team, sprang an upset yesterday when they defeated Don Budge and Gene Mako, America, for the national doubles tennis championship at Brookline, Mass. They won in straight sets, 6-4, 7-5, 6-4.

Sidewheeling his big bay horse, Lew Hal, first under the fire in three successive heats, Dock Parsh, veteran resman of Urbana, took the feature event of the first day's racing at the Ohio State Fair under way at Columbus. It was the 2-19 class pacing stake with a $1,000 purse.

Ranger again conquered yachting rivals in race off Marblehead, Mass. W. E. Snyder scored triple with go home. Undulate and Weena at opening day at Aqueduct racetrack. New York Giants took over National league lead by 4 to 3 victory over Cincinnati Reds. Other baseball results: Detroit Tigers 5, New York Yankees 4; Cleveland Indians 7, Washington Senators 6.

Joe Louis Leaves For Detroit Home

Louis Announces That He Expects To Meet Schmeling In September

(International News Service)
NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 31.—Wearing smoked glasses to hide the "mouse" under his right eye, Joe Louis was winging his way to his Detroit home today after announcing that he expected to meet Max Schmeling in the ring in September.

Escorted by more than 300 admirers, most of them Negroes, the heavyweight champion arrived here within a few hours after taking the 15-round decision from Tommy Farr at the Yankee stadium last night.

While posing for newswires in the airlines office while awaiting his plane that Louis made his announcement concerning the Schmeling fight.

CHAMPIONSHIP RECORD
Elroy Lockley, former New Castle high track star, has a softball record that will stand for many years. Since 1930, Lockley has been a member of every City Softball League championship team. In 1930, 31 and 32, Lockley played with the championship Lockleys. During the next three years, 1933-34 and 35, he was a member of the Rads who copied the honors for three successive years. Then in 1936, Lockley played with the Croton Progressives, titlists in 1936. This year, Lockley played with the National Radiators. Lockley was a great basketball star at New Castle high and in the New Castle Church league.

Flower Display To Take Place At Country Club

Women's And Garden Clubs To Hold Combined Display And Luncheon September 14

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—Officers and committee chairman of the Women's club will hold an executive meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Hough, of Connoquessing Terrace, to plan the initial meeting of the fall season.

A flower display will be a feature of the meeting to be held at the Ellwood City Country Club Tuesday, September 14. It is to be a combined meeting with the Garden club and members of the two organizations will be invited to enter displays.

A luncheon will open the affair at 1 o'clock. Mrs. S. D. Pierson, of New Castle, chairman of conservation in southwestern Pennsylvania, and Mrs. W. A. Pond, of New Castle, county chairman of conservation, will be the guest speakers.

Other arrangements for the display and program will be made at the executive meeting on Thursday afternoon.

Friends Honor 20th Anniversary

Frank Foremans Celebrate Score Of Married Years On Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—On August 29, 1917, Miss Thelma McMunn of Wayne township and Frank Foreman of North Sewickley were united in marriage, and in honor of the 20th anniversary of that occasion a lovely party was held on Saturday evening at their home on Bridge street extension.

For the occasion the home was prettily decorated with flowers. The hours were spent informally and features of the evening were vocal selections by Raymond and Ralph Foreman, Mrs. Harry Schantz, Elita Foreman and Shirley McMunn. Russel Foreman added to the interest of the evening by contributing clever imitations of birds and animals.

At a seasonable hour a tempting repast was served by Marian Foreman, Ruth Schantz, Thelma Schantz and Belle McMunn, after which the guests of honor were presented with an array of very lovely and useful gifts as remembrances of the occasion.

Sharing the event were: Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Henry McClain of Pittsburgh; Mrs. William Dwyer and daughter Mary Elida of Dallas, Tex. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schantz, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Schantz and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schantz of Beaver Falls; Mrs. E. E. McMunn and family and Mrs. E. E. McMunn of Zelenople, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Shaffer and Mr. and Mrs. George Weller of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foreman of Fombl, Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Berger, with the bride's uncle, Rev. William E. Pfeiffer officiating, assisted by the pastor of the church, and the bride's pastor.

Rev. Richter is now pastor of the Lutheran church at Eldred, Pa. Following a wedding dinner, they left on a wedding trip in the New England states, and will return to Eldred in two weeks.

HOSPITAL NOTES
ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—Admitted: Geraldine Hoover, Wurttemberg; Mrs. William Tewell, Spring avenue; and Eugene Dimico, Center avenue.

Discharged: Mrs. Lawrence Justice and baby, Pittsburgh; Mrs. John Falen, Lawrence avenue; Mrs. Charles Myers and baby, Ridge avenue; Olive May Lutz, Route 7; and Mrs. Merle Gallaher and baby, Route 2.

WEEK-END GUESTS
ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—Mrs. C. B. Sweeney, of Bellevue; Mrs. Charles Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hampe and daughter Jacqueline, of Pittsburgh, were weekend guests at the home of the former's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Yahn, of the Ellwood-Zelenople road.

SWASTIKA CLASS
ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—Members of the Swastika class of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church will please note that their August meeting has been changed from tonight until Friday night to be held at the home of Miss Rhea Meehan, of Wayne township.

KIWANIS PICNIC
ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—For their regular weekly meeting, members of the Kiwanis club will entertain their wives and friends at picnic tonight at 6 o'clock at Ewing Park grove.

Little Bits Of This And That About Ellwood

The attractiveness of the Shelby playgrounds has been enhanced by the painting of the surrounding fence. Painters have completed their work on the fourth ward bridge and the improvement is very noticeable. The extensiveness of the job can only be realized by viewing the bridge from the Wampum avenue approach. Many spectators were noticed watching the painters each day.

The Lawrence county end of the Wurttemberg-North Star Pinchot type road is being resurfaced by state highway workers, much to the satisfaction of the many motorists who take advantage of this shortcut. A few weeks ago the remainder of the road, being in Beaver county, was resurfaced, and the present resurfacing will complete the entire road. Traffic is being detoured via Wurttemberg Heights.

The chief topic of conversation around this town this morning was the unexpected outcome of the Louis-Farr boxing match.

Ray Wiltrout of Ellport has a joke on local anglers who travel many miles, often unsuccessfully, to lure fish to the hook and line. Having some leisure time Monday morning, he went a short distance below his home to the Connoquessing creek, where he succeeded in landing three nice sized bass in a short time.

Lovers of flowers and house plants should pay a visit to the home of Miss Kate Fisher and her sister, Mrs. Salina Updegraff in Princeton. The plants were grown and cultivated unaided by these ladies, who are both past the four score mark, as years are counted, but have kept young by their interest in physical and spiritual employment. They have received many compliments from flower growers and welcome all visitors in a hospitable manner.

V. F. W. MEETING
ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—Members of the V. F. W. will meet this evening in their hall on Fourth street for the regular meeting that was postponed last week on account of the Community picnic.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, of Beaver avenue, spent Saturday with friends in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sedoris and family, of Sebring, O., were guests on Sunday at the home of relatives in the Fourth Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boyer, of Niles, O., were guests at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Homer Ford, of Ellport, on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brady, of Warren, O., were weekend guests at the home of Mrs. Frank Marshall, of Wurttemberg, who is confined to her home by illness. Mrs. Brady is a daughter of Mrs. Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gardner, of Pittsburgh, and their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. William Dwyer and daughter, Mary Elida, of Dallas, Texas, who are spending a vacation with them, were the houseguests last week of Mr. and Mrs. William Travis, of Bridge street extension. Mrs. Gardner is a niece of Mrs. Travis.

Edward Dausen, William Crowl, Eli Gordon, Leslie Pander, Ralph Frederick and George McKenna, of Franklin township, motored to Youngstown on Monday evening where they visited with Carl McKenna, of the Ellwood-Zelenople road, who recently underwent a colter at a Youngstown hospital. His condition is much improved and he will be removed to his home during the latter part of this week.

Three WCTU Groups To Be Guests Of Mission Society

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the ladies parlor of the United Presbyterian church, members of the Women's Missionary society of the church, will entertain members of the three local W. C. T. U. organizations, Hazel Dell, Wurttemberg, and Ellwood.

A program is being arranged under the direction of Mrs. L. C. Barnhart and among the numbers is a pageant entitled, "The Urn of Destiny." Those taking part will be: Mrs. Barnhart, Mrs. Margaret Kennedy, Mrs. Harvey Wright, Mrs. Frank Potter and Miss Bessie Burrows. A talk will be given by Mrs. W. E. McIntee.

Following the meeting, a social hour is being planned with Mrs. Joseph Young to have charge of the refreshments.

Wiener Roast At White Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—An eagerly awaited event, for members of the primary and intermediate classes of the Hickory Knell Church of God at Lillyville took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford White, of the Ellwood-Zelenople road, marking the occasion of their third annual outing and wiener roast.

Mrs. White, Miss Florence Gallaher, Mrs. Fred Crans and John Sockack are teachers of the four classes included in the group and had arranged a program of diversions that kept the hours merry for everyone.

At an appropriate hour, the group assembled about a cheery bonfire and partook of savory roasted wieners and other tasty refreshments served by the teachers.

Man Injured While At Work

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—Charles Fisher, aged about 40, of Zelenople, is in the Ellwood City hospital in a serious condition as the result of an accident at the Ellwood City Foundry. Mr. Fisher was employed at the plant and was working at an emery wheel, when it flew off and struck him on the chin, injuring him badly. His jaws are broken, his teeth knocked out, and his face cut and badly injured.

Mrs. Harry Loudon, and daughter, Ruth, of Pittsburgh, have concluded a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, of the Ellwood-New Castle road.

E. W. H. CLUB
ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—On Wednesday evening, members of the E. W. H. club will hold their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ellis Guy, of the Wampum road, in the form of a tureen dinner at 6 o'clock.

Found Dead At End Of Bridge

ZELLENOPLE, Aug. 31.—Charles Putnam Burch, aged 61, was found dead at the end of the bridge over the Connoquessing creek at Harmony Sunday morning about 10 o'clock, with his neck broken and his skull fractured. He had fallen over the end of the bridge, a drop of about 15 feet.

Rock Point Members Entertain Mothers

Girl's 4-H Club Concludes Season With Dinner For Their Mothers

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—In an effective manner, members of the Rock Point Girl's 4-H club demonstrated what they had learned during their meetings held for the past several weeks when they prepared and served their mothers a dinner on Monday.

The affair took place at the home of Mrs. Mary Pappas, of the Ellwood-Wampum road and the guests were served a delicious, carefully prepared dinner by the girls, who were supervised by Miss Mary Vogle, Lawrence county home extension worker. Bouquets of fragrant garden flowers were the only decoration on Monday.

Mothers sharing the event were: Mrs. Harry Sommers, Mrs. Elmer Derrow, Mrs. Feltner, Mrs. Alice Pappas, Mrs. Clara Matheny and Mrs. David Chapman.

This event concluded the activities of the club for this season until the annual round-up in October, with the exact date and place to be determined by H. R. McCullough, county agent.

Accident Victim Dies This Morning

Mrs. Joseph Newswander, Of Newport, Dies At Ellwood Hospital

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Elma Mae Newswander, aged 35 years, died this morning at 8:45 o'clock in the Ellwood City hospital from injuries received late Saturday evening when she was struck by an automobile on the Wampum-Newport road.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Newswander after alighting from a bus stepped in the path of an approaching automobile driven by Richard Hartzell, of Wampum, Route 1.

Mrs. Newswander had been a resident of Newport for the past eight years, and was highly respected by a wide circle of friends.

She is survived by her husband, Joseph Newswander; one daughter, Catherine, at home; her mother, Mrs. William Fletcher, of Wampum, R. D. 1; and one brother, Charles Fletcher, of Wampum, R. D. 1.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, E. S. T., from the late home. Interment will be made in the Savannah cemetery.

Trading Again At Extremely Slow Pace; Steel, Rails, Motors Are Firm

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The recovery movement in stocks was extended today, as leaders added a point or so to Monday's gains running to more than 2 points.

Trading again was at an extremely slow pace, approximating yesterday's sluggish session of 460,000 shares.

There was no important change in the news picture, but professionals still felt stocks were entitled to at least a technical rally after last week's severe decline. A little buying and some short covering brought improved prices in most sections of the list.

Steel, rails, motors and utilities were among the firmest groups. The market started higher and gains were increased through the first hour. The advance slowed down later in the forenoon, but leaders held close to their early peaks.

A number of pivotal issues scored gains of a point or more, including Bethlehem and U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Standard of California, Atchafalaya, Pennsylvania and Southern Pacific, International Harvester, Loew's, Eastman Kodak and U. S. Rubber.

Individual features included Philip Morris, which spurred more than 2 points into new high ground for the year, Dow Chemical, up about as much, and Radio Corp. common. The latter advanced fractionally in heavy dealings, after opening on a block of 4,000 shares.

American Car & Foundry dropped a point to a new 1937 low in a backward rail equipment group.

Most commodities were soft, cotton losing 75 cents a bale to new lows for the season for the second day in a row.

Grains were fractionally lower in North American pits. Sugar futures also dropped into new low ground. Bonds were quiet and steady, including government obligations.

Foreign markets displayed an improved tone.

Mrs. W. S. Collins, Pearson street, is confined to her home today by serious injuries sustained in an early morning auto crash at a Petersburg, O., corner on Monday. Mrs. Collins' two sons, Charles and Woodson, are nursing minor injuries.

The accident occurred while the Collins family and Frank Williams, West Washington street, were returning in the Collins car through Petersburg from a visit in Weirton, W. Va., with Mrs. Collins' sister and daughter. Young Williams was at the wheel.

A bus, it is said, obscured the vision of Mr. Williams at a corner and his machine and an Ohio car collided.

Mrs. Collins, with bruises and lacerations and a possible leg fracture, was brought here by ambulance. She may be removed to a hospital later.

Loyalists Are Forced Back

Government Officials Admit Some Withdrawals Have Been Made

(International News Service)
MADRID, Aug. 31.—Loyalist troops has been forced to withdraw from their original positions along the northern front, government officials admitted today.

They said the retirement became necessary after the government forces reached their objectives and then found the insurgents had obtained considerable reinforcements.

The rebels brought heavy pressure on the Loyalists, authorities declared.

Meanwhile, three insurgent planes raided Valencia, seat of the Loyalist government, and several bombs were dropped in the suburb of Malvarrosa. Damage was reported slight.

The retreat of the Granada sector followed some of the heaviest fighting in that area since the civil war began.

Government troops launched a series of raids in the hope of cutting off advanced rebel positions, but the insurgent forces held their ground and a large-scale battle ensued.

At the same time, preparations were under way for resumption of the major government drive on the Saragossa-Teruel sector.

Insurgents Advance

Salamanca, Spain, Aug. 31.—The insurgent advance on the Santander front in the northern Basque is progressing rapidly, rebel authorities announced today, while more than 200 Loyalists have been killed in major fighting on the Granada front.

Officials said several villages were occupied in the Santander region by rebels who reached Puenteamarta in their headlong drive.

More than 200 government troops lost their lives in a heavy battle at Lanjaran on the Granada front in the south, and Loyalist forces there are in full flight, it was claimed.

New Teachers At Union High

Several Vacancies Created During Summer Filled By New Teachers

To take care of vacancies created by the resigning of a number of teachers from the faculty of the Union township high school since the close of school in June, the following new teachers have been named to the teaching staff.

Miss Dorothy McGraw will teach in the commercial department of the school. Miss Margaret Beck has been named to the girl's physical education department, and as coach of the girl's athletic teams.

LeRoy Rowley, former music supervisor at Brookville school has accepted the post of musical supervisor in that department at Union high. Don McGraw will take up duties as mathematics instructor in the school.

According to Jay G. Rudolph, supervising principal at the school, no appointment has yet been made to fill the vacancy in the athletic department created by the resignation of David M. Boyd, as coach.

First Presbyterian Picnic Is Success

Large Throng Enjoys Annual Outing Monday Afternoon At Cascade Park

Close to 290 men, women and children attended the annual First Presbyterian Sunday school and church picnic Monday afternoon and evening at Cascade Park.

The crowd gathered in the grove late in the afternoon and the delicious basket supper was served at about 6:15. Harry Gibson had his usual job as chairman of the refreshments committee, and with his staff of helpers, saw that the throng was served coffee and dessert.

A public address system had been installed in the grove for the affair and when games and contests were not being announced the amplifiers were connected with a radio and the picnicers had music.

Dr. Arthur B. Foster assisted by a group of able helpers, was in charge of the entertainment. Many games were provided for the amusement of the crowd and by the time the evening was over almost everyone had a prize. Thirty-five or more children had enjoyed swimming earlier in the day.

Morgan Jones and Mrs. Verne Dufford did the announcing. The community sing was led by Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine and Mrs. James Rugh.

Much credit is due to A. A. Webb, general chairman and all the committee members, for the crowd agreed that it was one of the most successful picnics the church has ever had. The weather was almost ideal. Although some parts of the city had rain, just a few drops fell at the park.

Making Capital Out Of Nature's Sinking Spells

BUHL, Idaho, Aug. 31.—It seems there are hundreds of people who are willing—even eager—to pay 50 cents to watch a farm drop.

So the residents of Idaho's "sinking canyon", dismayed two weeks ago when crop-laden acres crumpled and fell 250 feet, hustled about to harvest tourist dollars from the hundreds of curious who flocked to the scene from 33 states.

Mrs. Harry McFarlin, who operates a ranch near the land disturbance, invited hordes of tourists to cross her fields and view the new canyon from a distance—at 50 cents a car.

Many of Buhl's 2,000 residents hired themselves out as guides.

Two amateur photographers snapped views of the sinking canyon, quickly sold 1,000 "souvenir post cards" and ordered more.

For more than a week fertile acres on the farm of H. A. Robertson, seven miles northwest of here, have been dropping amidst rising clouds of dust and explosions. But for Farmer Robertson, who stands by helplessly while nature dabbles with his land, there is no commercial value to his ill fortune.

His property is closed to tourists for fear some may be injured by the shifting land. Already he has watched seven acres drop away.

A huge, jagged wall of dirt and lava, standing alone between two deep canyons, threatens to topple and fall, possibly to send other cracks splitting through the Robertson farm. Geologists fear collapse of the wall will dam Little Salmon river.

The phenomena of the "sinking canyon" resulted from the collapse of underlying lava strata which was softened by irrigation, the geologists said.

Local Pilots

Move Planes To Butler Airport

Alameda Airport Near Butler Taken Over By New Castle Air Men

New Castle airplane pilots have now made their headquarters at the Alameda airport near Butler, Pa. All of the airplanes belonging to the local pilots have been moved to this field and will remain there until the completion of the New Castle port.

Those from this city who have taken their planes to Butler include Findley C. Wilson, William Ice, and Robert Brown.

Students from New Castle are given their instruction at the Alameda field by Wilson and flying by the local men is held very Sunday.

According to Wilson, the planes will undoubtedly remain at this port until the local field is completed and some sort of a shelter for the planes constructed.

The Alameda airport is located on Route 422 a short distance outside of Butler, near the fair grounds.

News Briefs From City Hall

Last night police received from a crossing watchman at the P. R. R. Moravia street, a complaint that it was nearly impossible for him to go onto the crossing on account of speeding automobiles.

Someone stole gasoline from a truck parked in South Walnut St., last night, police were informed.
